Comaraderie, esprit de corps,
Loyalty to all, a spirit united.
Fiercely demanded and fiercely accomplished,
All if required and the best is given,
And all is rewarded with the immaterial
The attainment of unity from the strength of all.

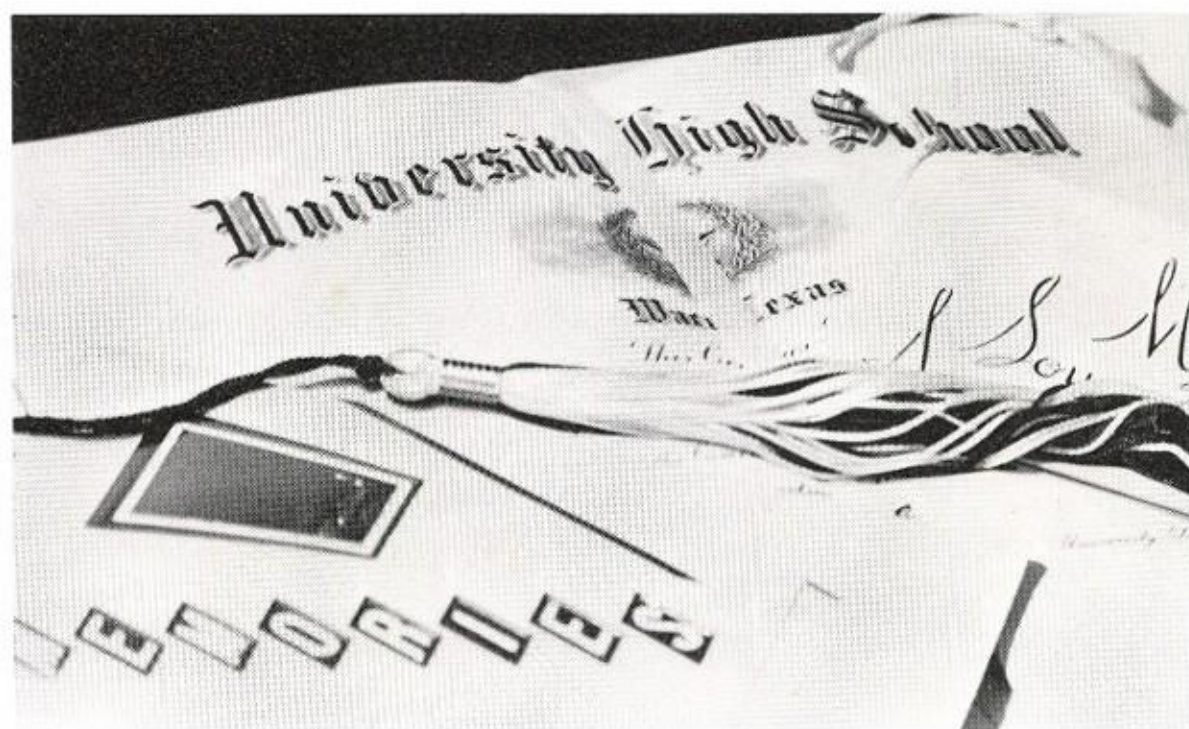

The state of mind remains capricious,
Whimsically, magically, changing its ways;
The happiest dropping to deep reverie,
Or pondering problems or philosophizing,
Or admiring silently, thoughtfully, earnestly.
Yet always short-lived and soon washed away
With brighter thoughts and new ideas of hope.

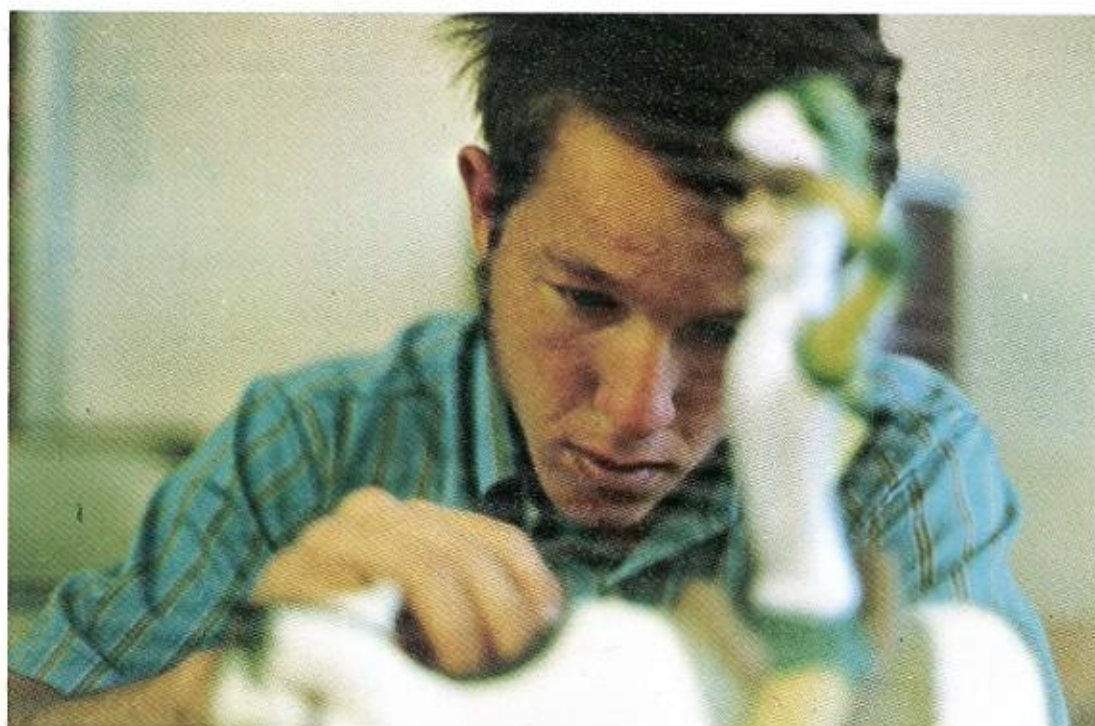

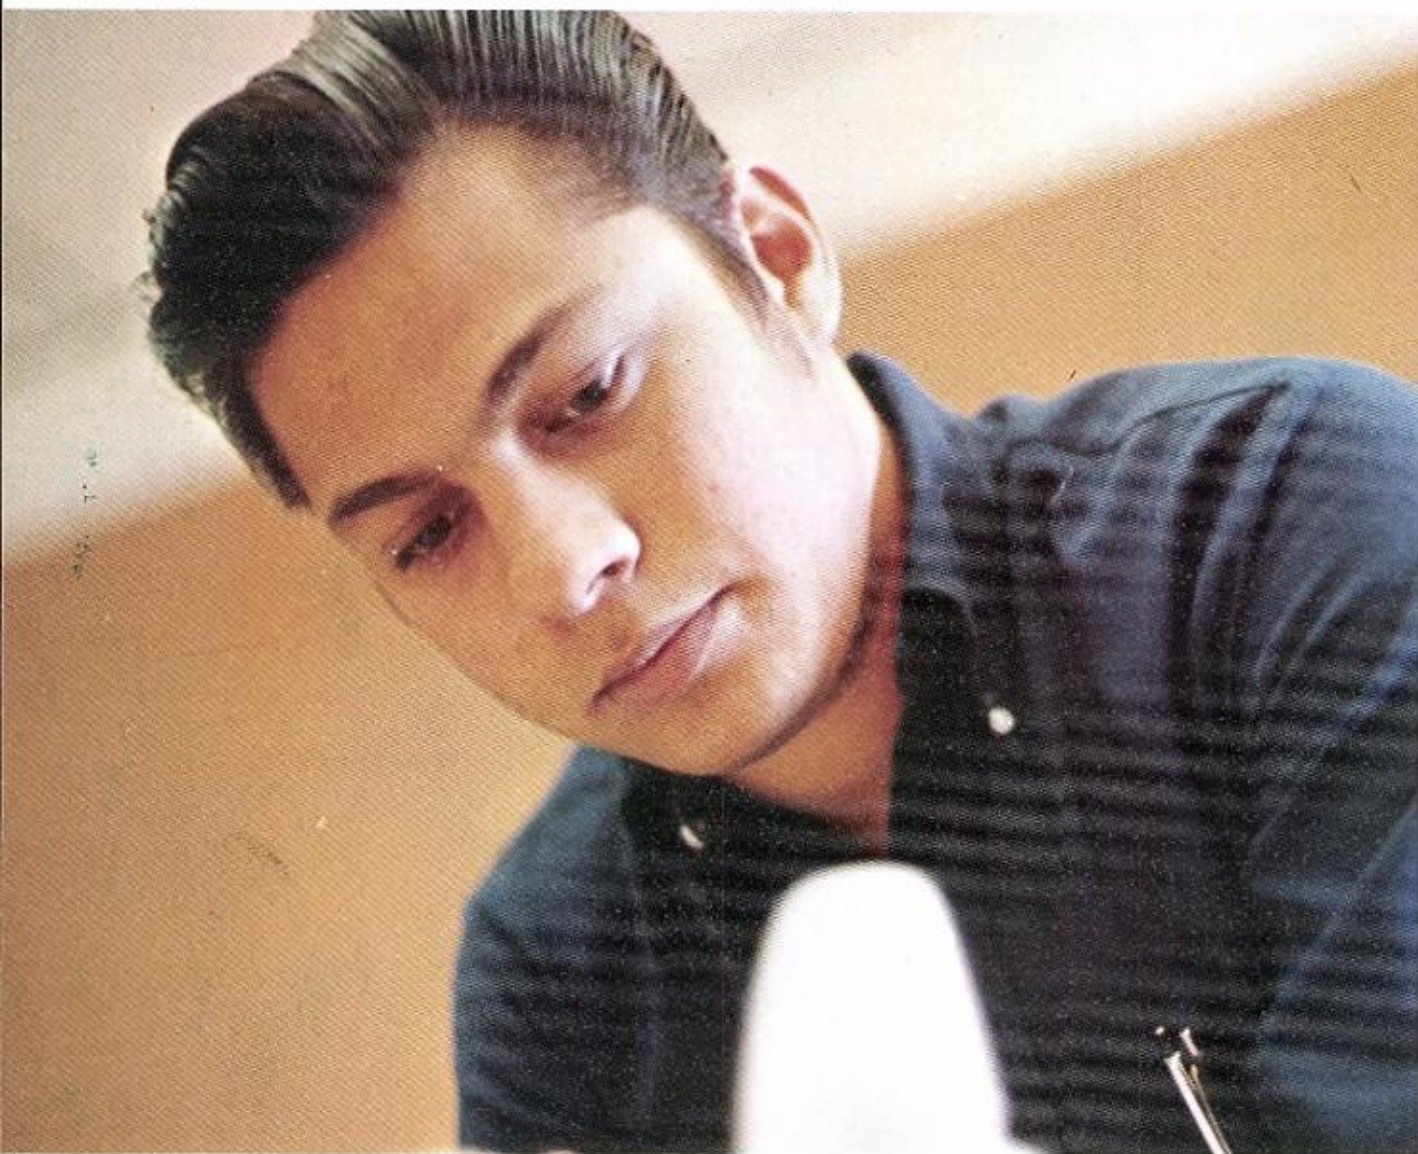

Tomorrow is but a stone's throw from today
 Yet lies eternally in darkness from mankind,
 Where none can ever see or tell his fate;
 But, for each man a light is found,
 The ray of hope and plans.
 To lead each on his onward way
 In finding his own bright path to the sun.

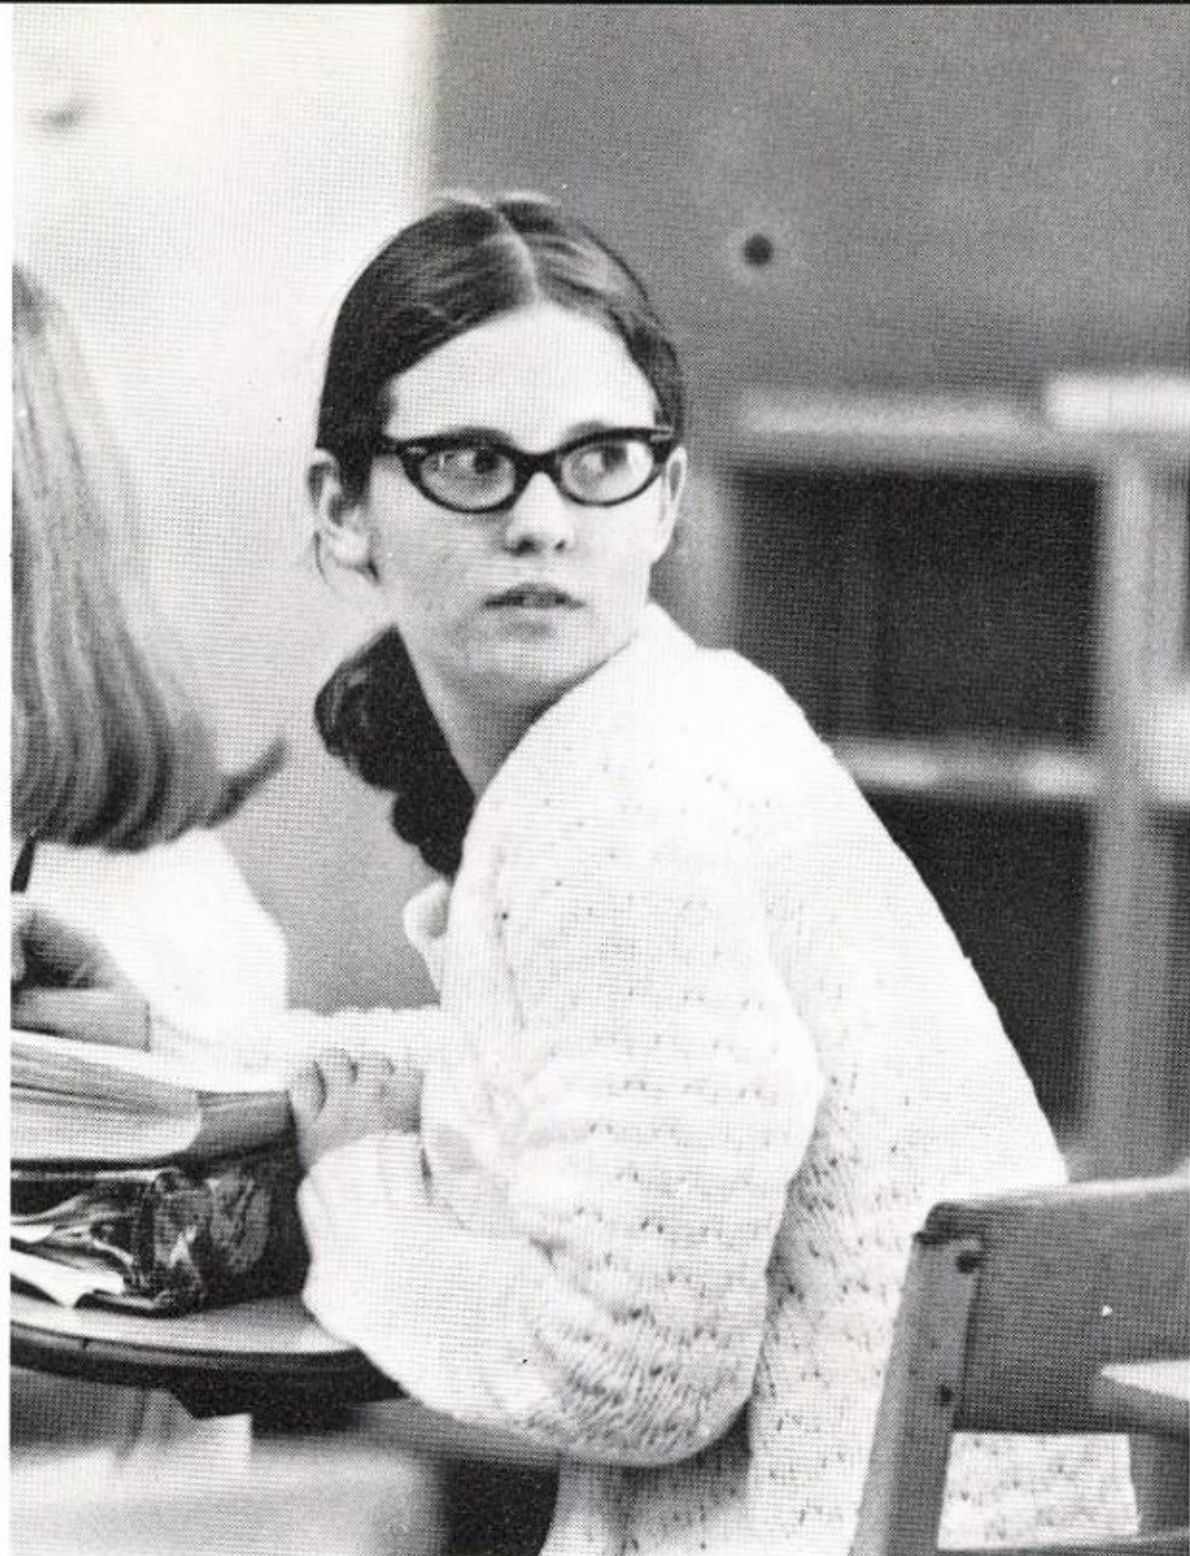

Youth seeks new paths
Of learning, of creating, of doing;
From ignorance, wisdom is sought;
From clumsiness, skill is acquired;
From ideas, a thought is created;
Developing, blooming into worthiness,
That which had so dormant lain.

A spirit or a magic touch Breathes life into the very souls of our being,
Permeating into every thought or action;
A commanding, overwhelming, hypnotizing force,
Giving and receiving more than can ever be spoken,
This universal flow of feeling each will know,
But none can ever tell.

intangible memories

Remember the best pep rally of the year, the one that nobody came to because of the rain? Remember the Soul March with all of its blistered feet and sore muscles? And remember the faces, best of all?

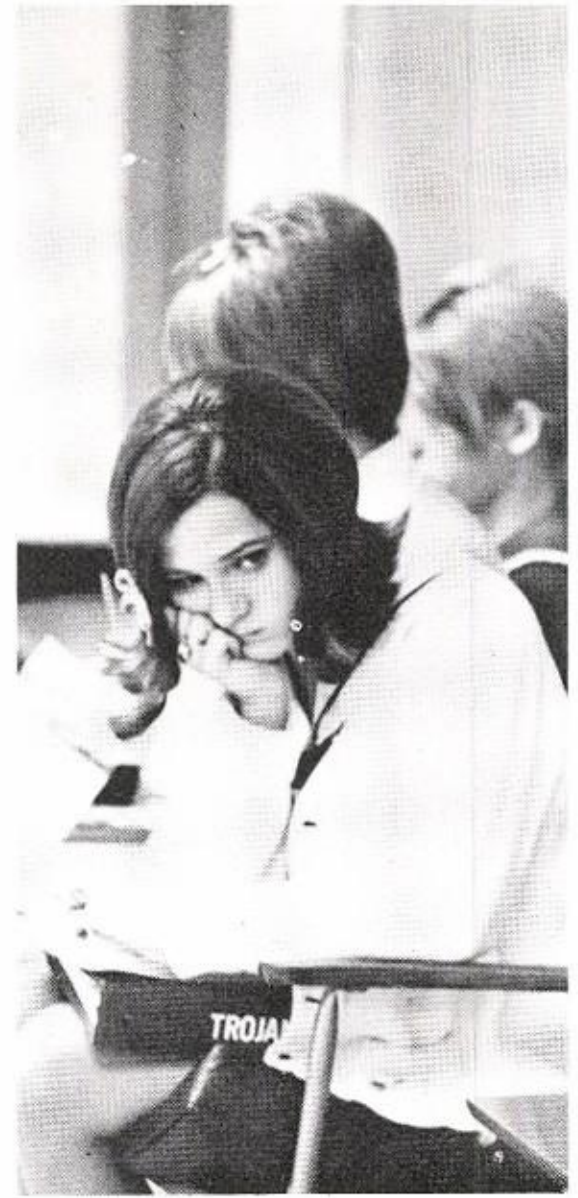

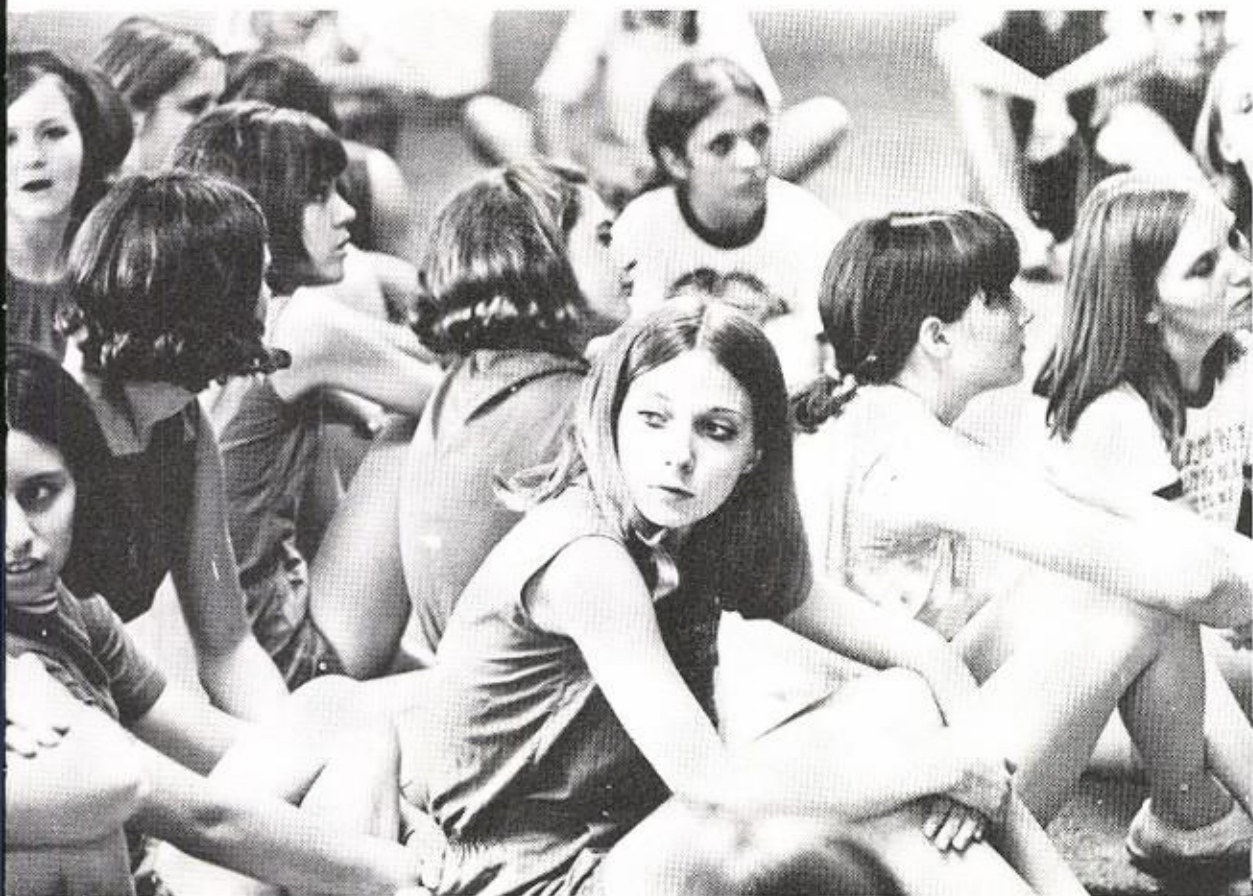

school begins with traditional activities

Trying to find room 004 on the bottom floor when it's not even in the building

... getting up at 7 a.m. to practice for cheerleaders and Highlighters ... learning which teachers to bug and which to sculk pass in the hall ... staying home to study when you could be swimming ... this is typical of the beginning of school.

Elizabeth Reeves and Natalie Walker (far left) wonder when GAA initiation will end. Lisa Rickets appears unenthused about having another year of going to school. Dawn Granger demonstrates Trojan spirit to sophomores (lower middle). With the coming of fall, various groups and organizations, including Highlighters, begin to reorganize (top left). Mrs. Orr leads the fight song at the sophomore orientation (above).

spirit developed through routines

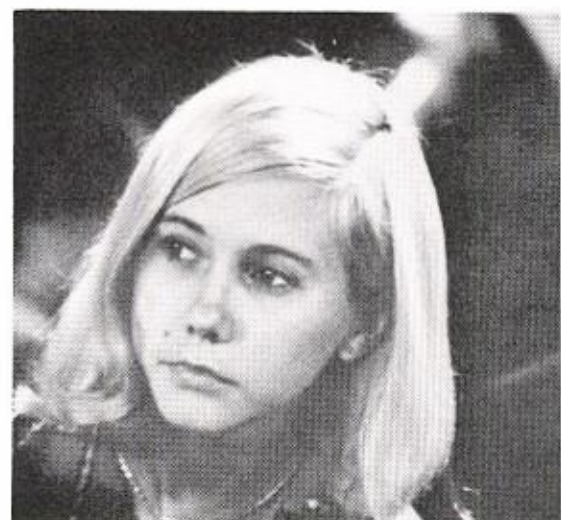

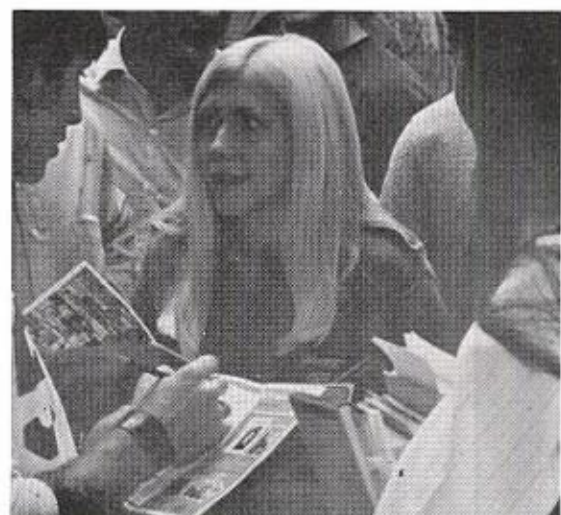

Faces become familiar and names are learned as the days turn into weeks and the latter into months. Smiles come easier as confidence is won by the sophomores and other new students. The teachers loosen their firm hand and rules and mellow to the pranks of their class "devils". As the daily drudgery of homework becomes a natural part of high school, sophomores sometimes long to return to junior high. However, juniors anticipate the arrival of their senior year and seniors remorse about graduating.

agony ends in ecstasy for queen

October 13th made it's mark on the seniors of UHS. The last homecoming for the "Sun to Sun Seniors" was presented with true Trojan spirit. Tension increased each day, for who knew what lucky girl would be crowned "Homecoming Queen 1970." The suspense ended as Carol Wenzel was crowned during halftime ceremonies of the Richfield-University annual clash. Homecoming ended with a dance sponsored by the Student Council, with Heather Black performing.

Nominees are: Cathy Cook, Jeanne Goolesbee, Cathy Murphy, Francis Guerra, Carol Wenzel, Bonni Hamilton, Judy Clemmons, Sue Ford, Diane Kilgore, Melinda Curnutt, Carla Graham, Yolanda Hernandez, Susan Todd, Belinda Dossett, and Dawn Granger. Bill Carroll speculates on the Richfield game. The five finalists were: Carol Wenzel, Francis Guerra, Dawn Granger, Sue Ford, and Melinda Curnutt. Carol Wenzel's amazement is evident as the result of the votes become known.

"Chestnuts roasting on an open fire Jack Frost nipping at your nose, Tiny tots with their eyes all aglow . . ."

All these minor things put together make the holiday spirit. This is the time of year when people take time out from their year-in-year-out rush to get to know and understand others. With the last of the year, comes the sadness of reminiscence and the hope for an even better and richer year ahead.

Representative, Charles Segrest, (opposite upper left) sets out to deliver a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family. As Pan-American members (opposite below left) look on, this small boy makes it evident that he is more concerned about his package than all the attention he is getting. A member of the choir (opposite above) gives up a little of her own time to make someone else a lot happier. Senior Audrey Kitchens (opposite below right) must have decided that she had more fun being "a kid at heart." Sophomore, Darlene Ivy, (above left) seems to want everyone to know that she's got the Christmas spirit. Mrs.

Speed and Debbie Buelow, (left) a member of the Art Club, decided to change the look of the Christmas tree this year. Two beaming believers (above) prepare to let Santa in on their Christmas wishes.

sophomore favorites

Every year, in February or March, the Spirit staff sponsors the Favorites and Best All Round Presentation. This year, the presentation was held during a school assembly. Winners for Sophomore Favorites were: (1) Claudia Horner and Larry Green, (2) Mary Jo Rodriquez and Richard Arellano, and (3) Charlotte Goolsbee and Bruce Smith.

Much work and preparation goes into the staging of the presentation. There are scripts to be written and alterations made until the peak of perfection is reached. Cathy Moore was in charge of the script committee this year and Joel Smith was narrator.

The Junior Favorites were 1) Judy Abel and Gary Milam (center), 2) Jeanne Pritchard and Bill Matyastik (opposite right), and (3) Bianca Duron and Bill Carroll (right).

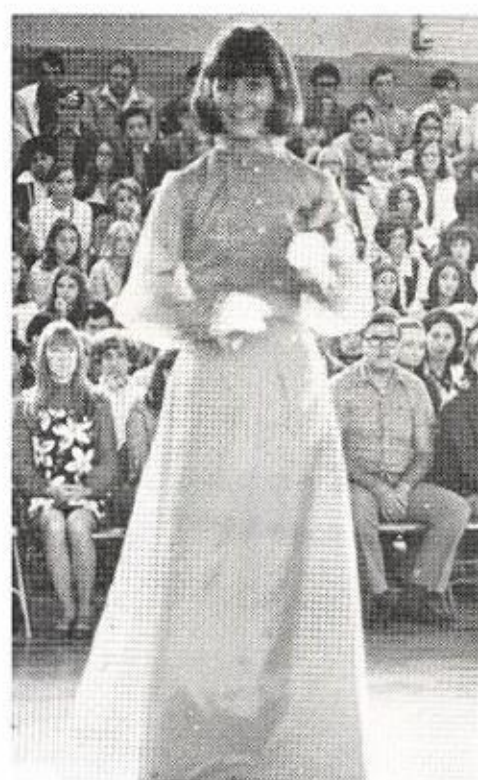

senior favorites

The decorations always play an important part in carrying out the theme. This year, the theme was spring and Mrs. Speed and the art department were in charge. The Senior class nominated as their favorites: (1) Carol Wenzel and Ricky Sharp, (2) Bonni Hamilton and Leonard Green, and (3) Yolanda Hernandez and Steve Gregory.

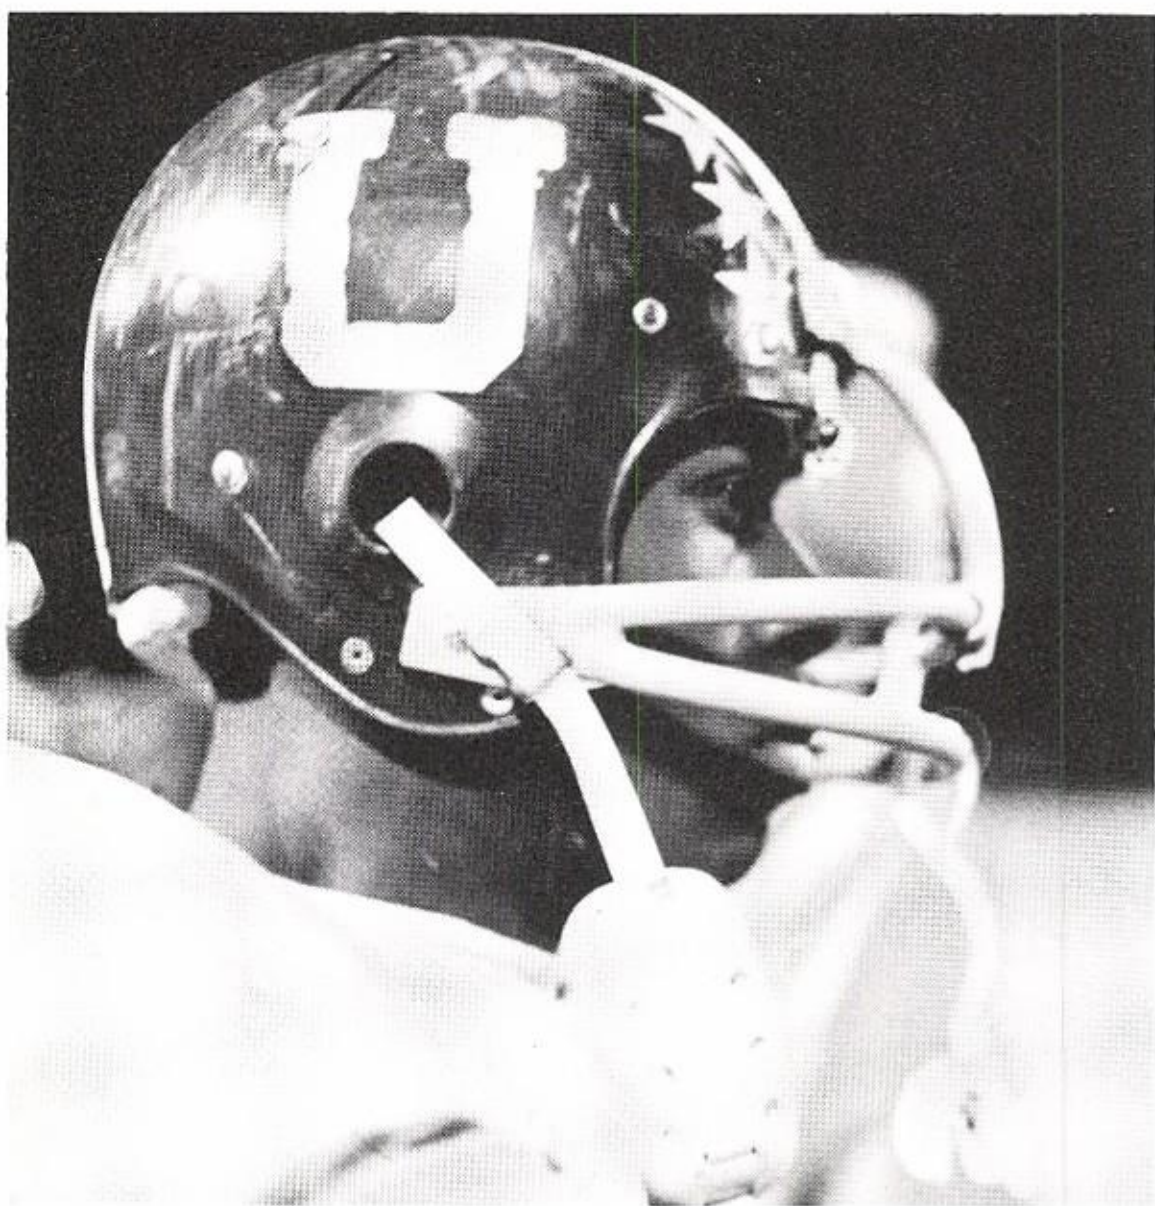

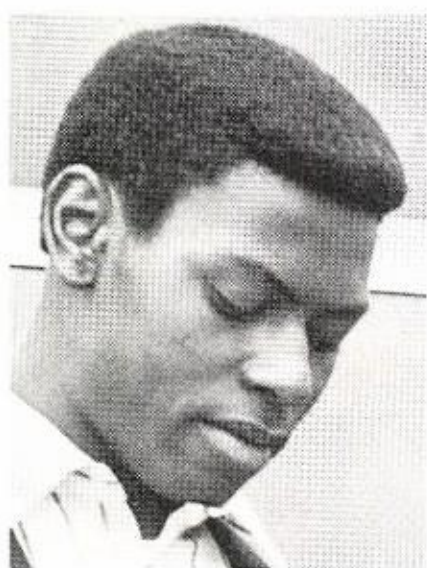

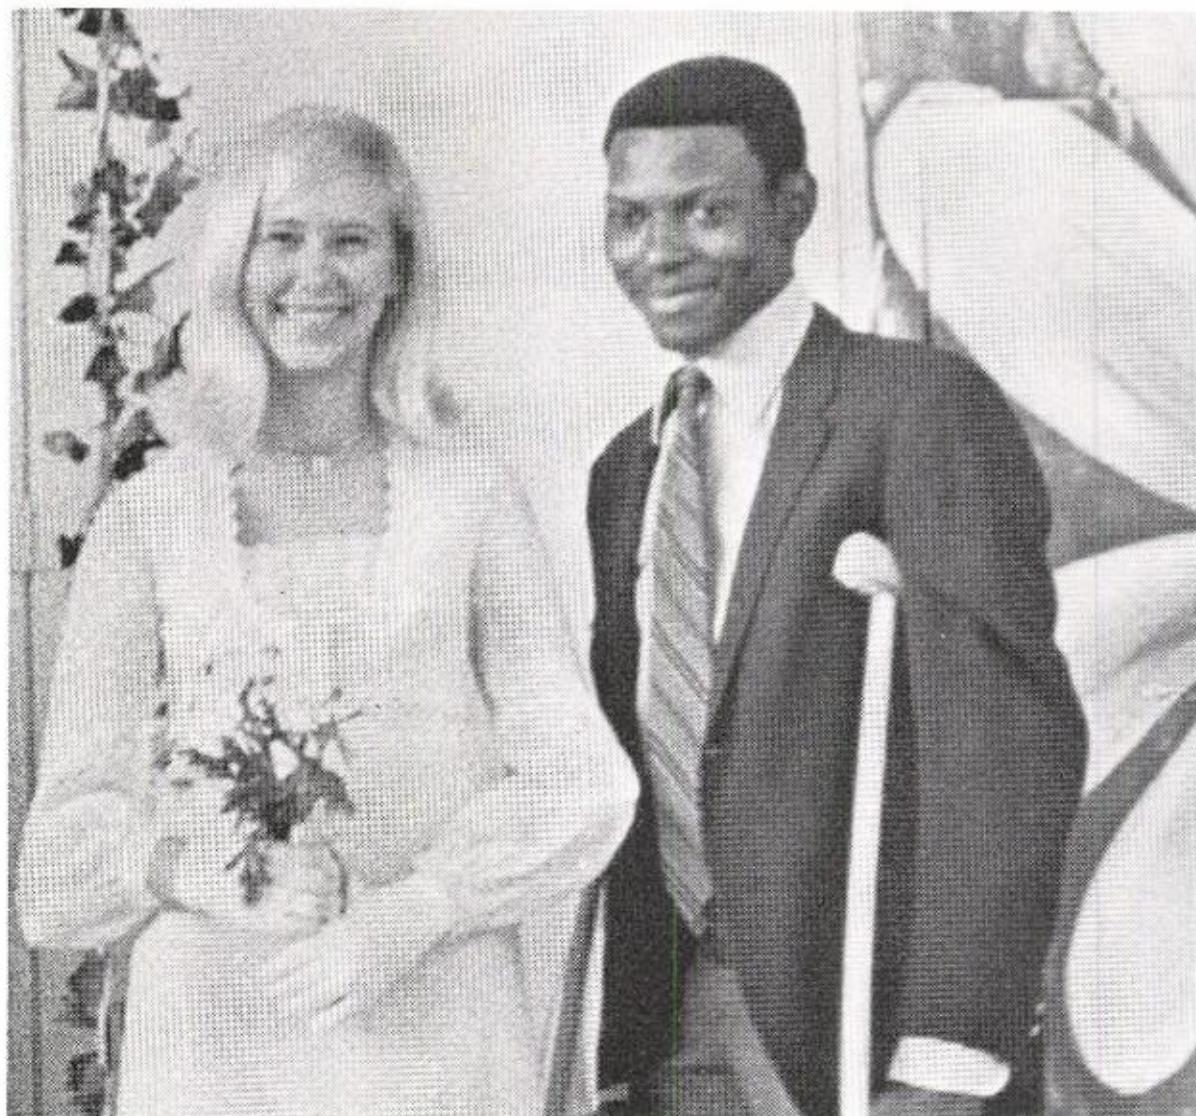

The seniors chose Carol Wenzel and Ricky Sharp (above) as their favorite couple. Runners-up were Bonnie Hamilton and Leonard Green (opposite top), and Yolanda Hernandez and Steve Gregory (opposite bottom).

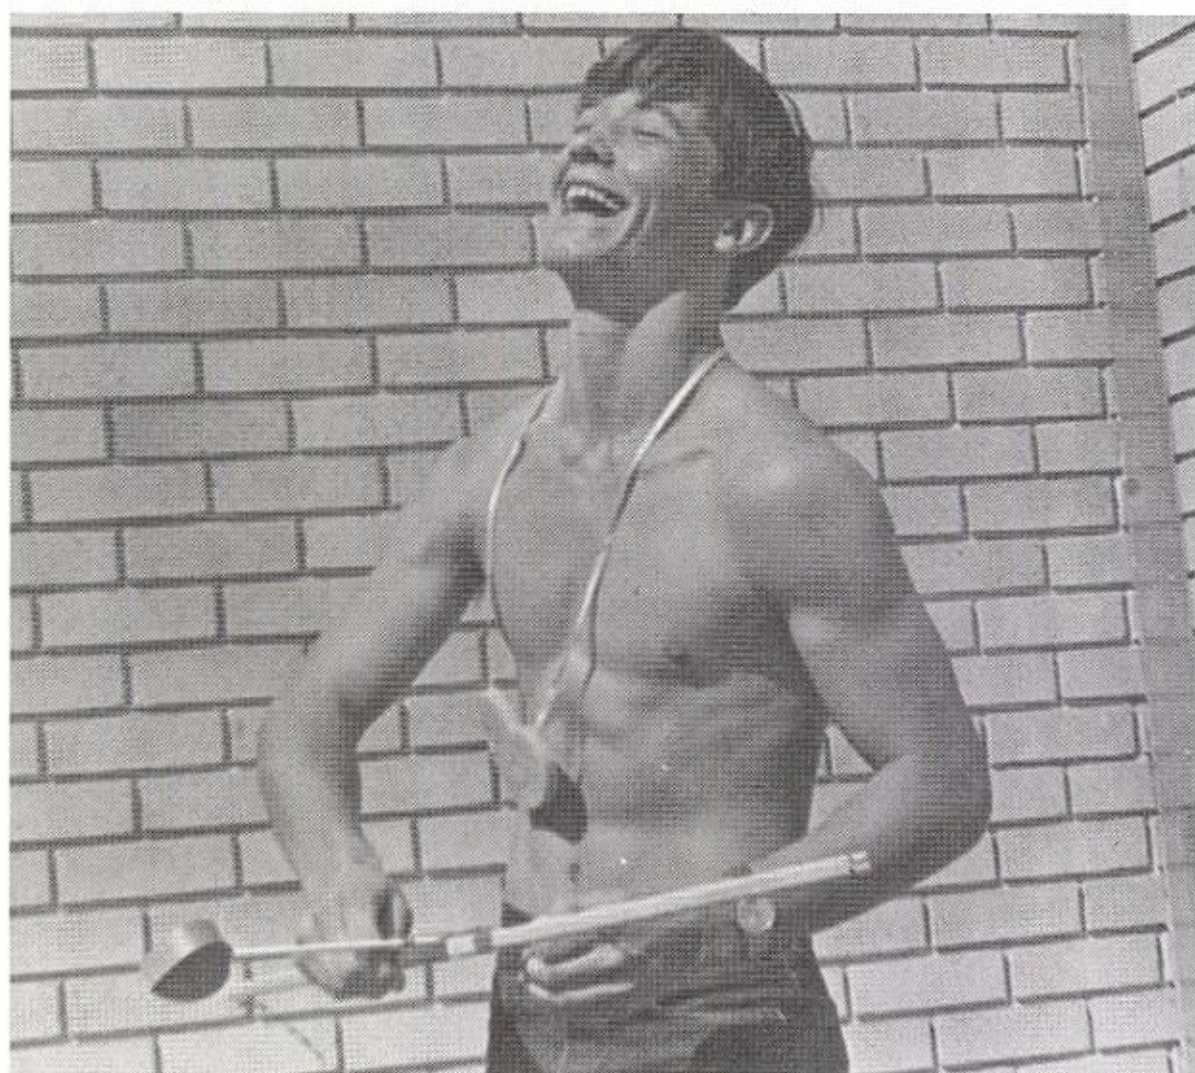

best all-around

Along with class favorites, Best All-Around students were also presented. These students are nominated and voted on by the faculty.

Don Elliot and Sharon Weeks (top left) share that "look of love" during Valentines. From the major factor of love to the minor factors of candy and cards at Valentines, this small youngster (top right) enjoys preparing his Valentine box. Larry Green's (bottom) title of Mr. Cupid brought thoughts of love to the young and old alike. Steve Gregory and Richard Valdez

new ideas, changes

During the month of February, Valentines seems to overrule. Many people are experiencing their first love, while others are celebrating their many years of love. New ideas and changes are occurring in more fields than one. For the first time this year University has presented a Mr. Cupid, whereas before, there has been a Spring Festival Queen. Also this year a noontime recreation was sponsored by Mrs. Prause and Mrs. Hinton. The girls and boys formed their own basketball teams and competed against each other. Another activity which commenced this year was Young Life. Each Thursday night groups of students congregated at one student's home for the meetings.

James Sowders and Jean King, as well as Theresa Collier and Gary Guderian (right) show their enthusiasm for the Sadie Hawkins tradition. Pam Katner and Gary Lakey (below) were voted best-dressed-couple. Larry Leshikar and Patricia Bottoms (below right) seem to be interested in what's happening on the dance floor. Not everyone (center) went to Sadie Hawkins to dance, some just preferred to go and have a good time listening. A member (opposite left) of the band plays, while looking forward to a much needed break. Gary Storer and Sandra Collier, and Mary Pirelo and Richard Valdez (opposite top) patiently wait for some action to begin. Hilda Montelongo and Paul Galindo (opposite right) decide that this bale of hay is softer than the gym floor where Claudia Horner and Cecil Edwards are sitting.

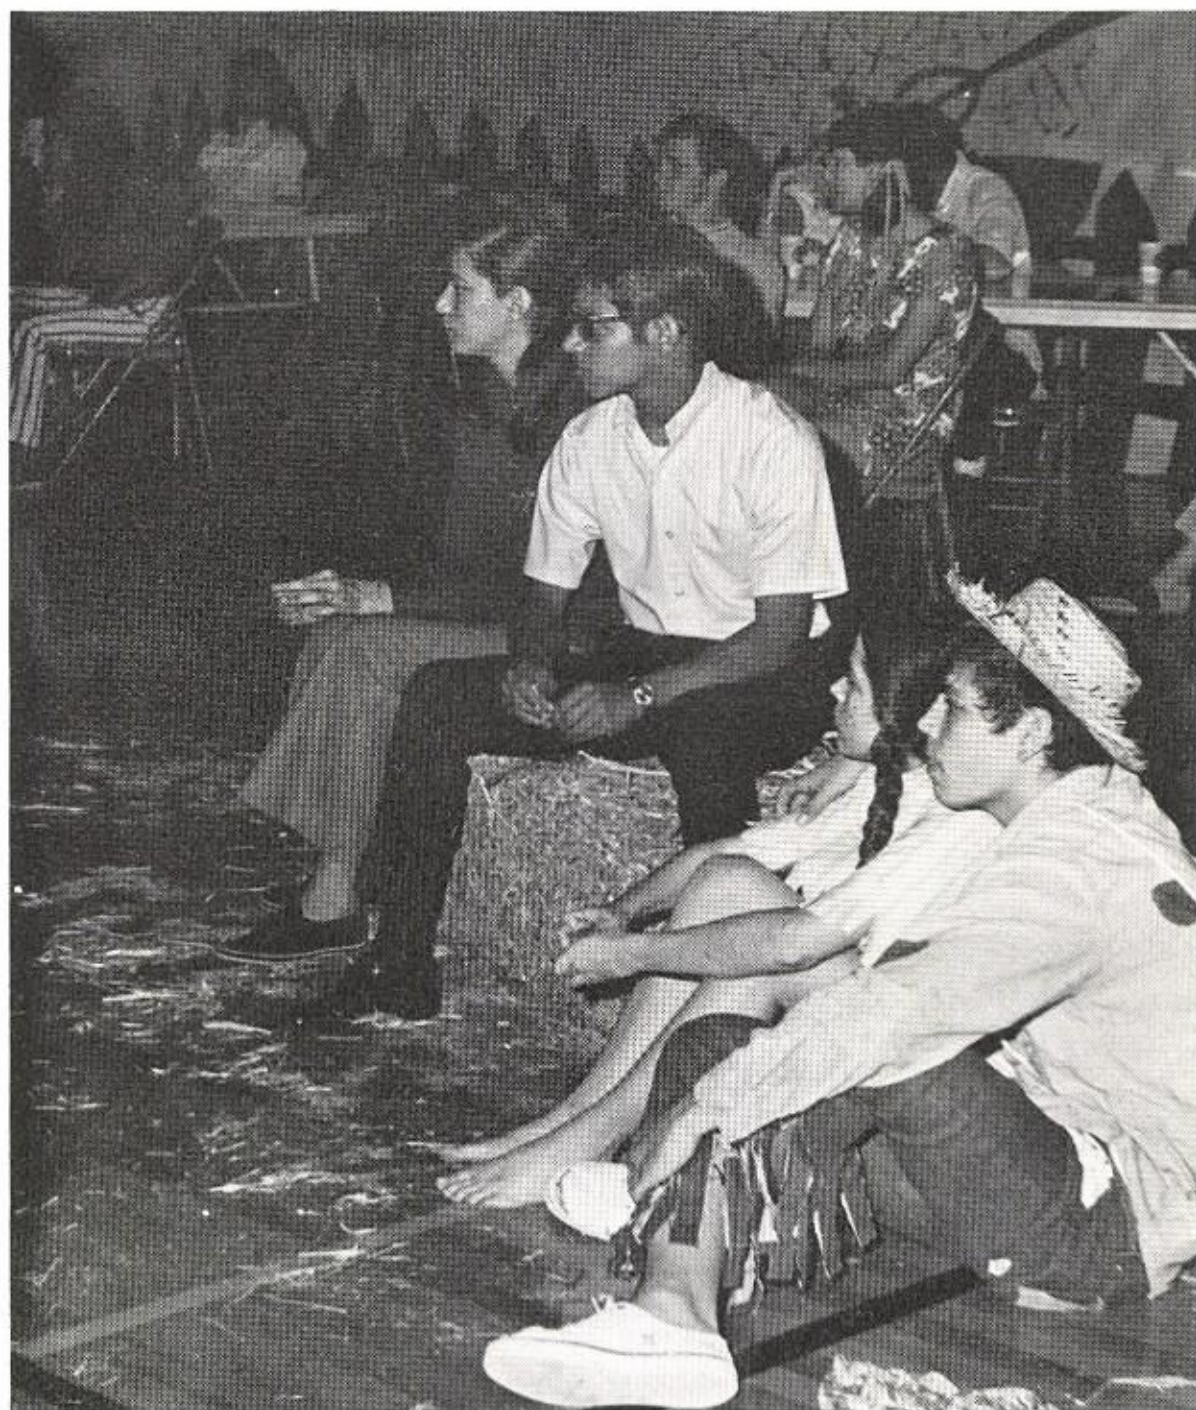

sadie orginates

women's liberation

Sadie Hawkins only comes once a year, and when it does, everybody likes to go all out for it. Sadie Hawkins is sponsored by the Girl's Athletic Association and all decorations and foods are made by members of this club. There are contests for the best dressed Sadie, Abner, and the best dressed couple. Fat City played at the dance this year.

Patricia Bottoms (right) does not seem to like the idea of a future with Mark Batson. This band, (bottom) composed of (left to right) George Cortiz, Tony Gonzales, and Craig Denny, entertained students one day at lunch. Cheerleader candidates Cathleen Rivers, Cindy Smith, and Carol Vasquez (opposite right), lead cheers while students consider their votes. Fayla Newman, Patricia Bottoms, and Donald Temples (opposite bottom) were participating in the play put on by the drama department. Billy Furrer (opposite far right) expressed the emotions felt by many when the return of the elections are known.

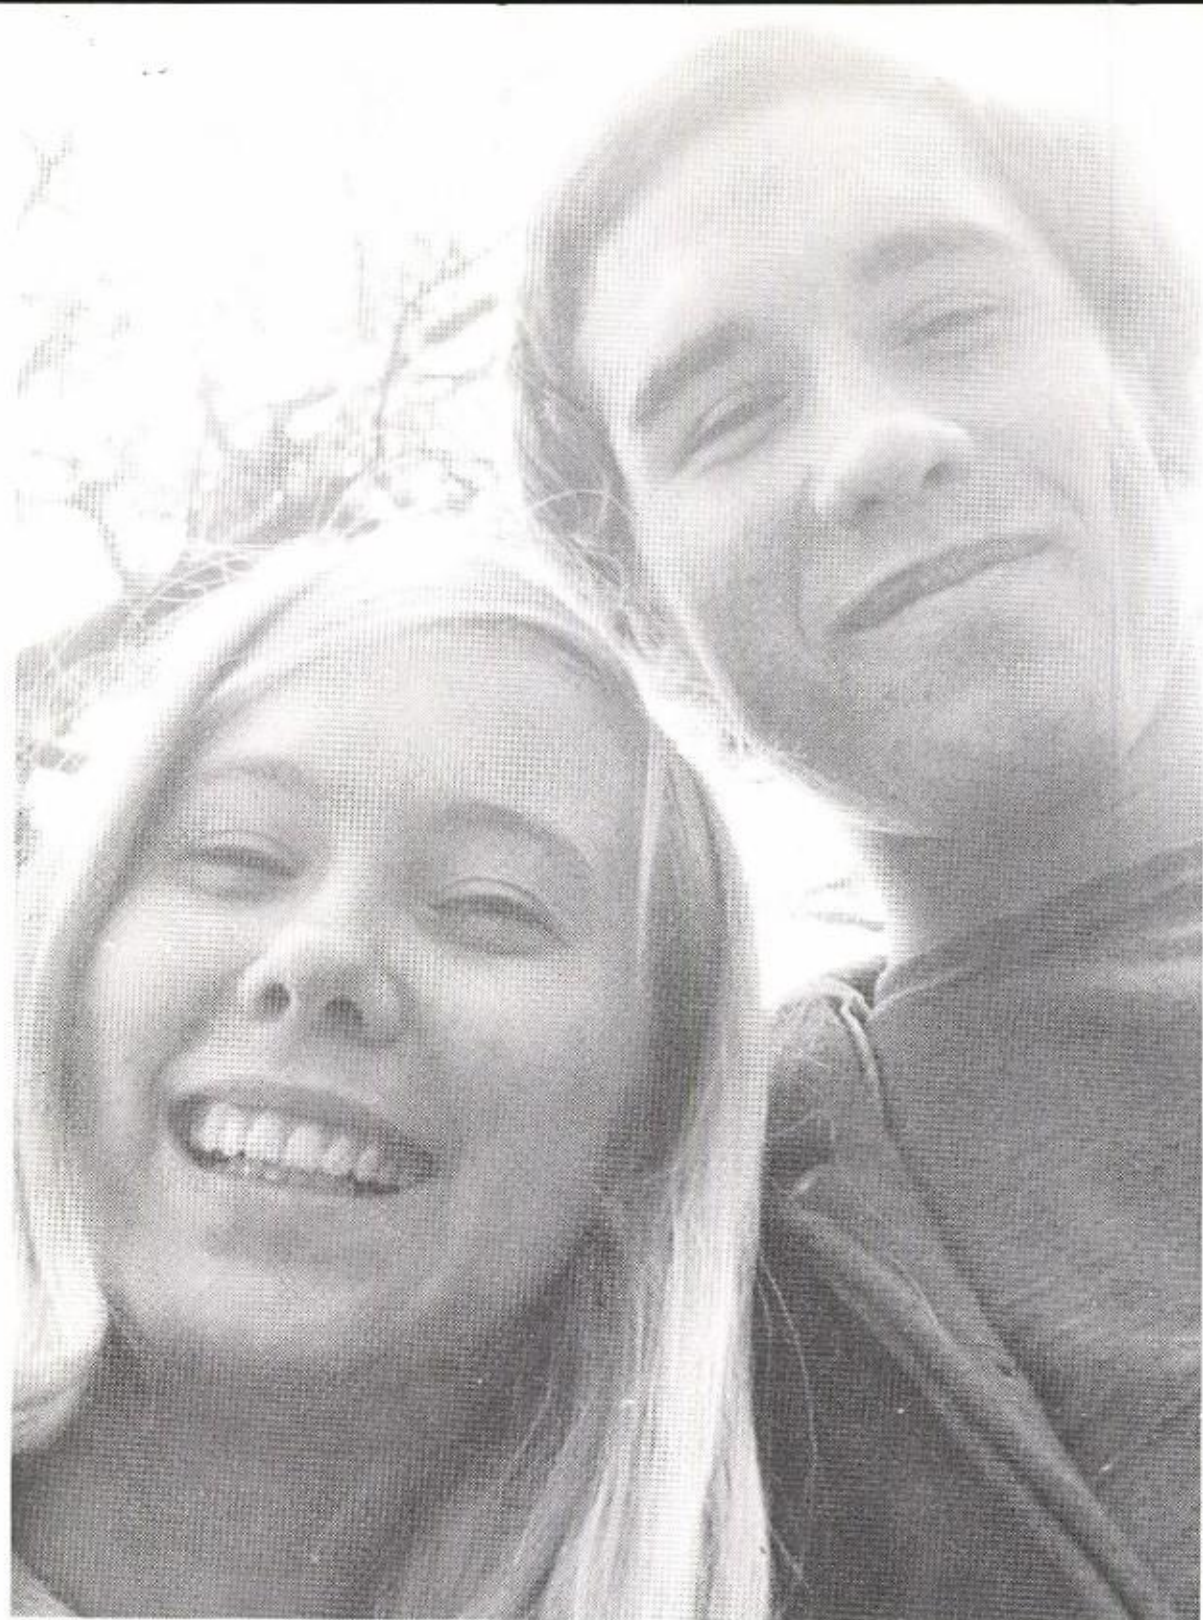

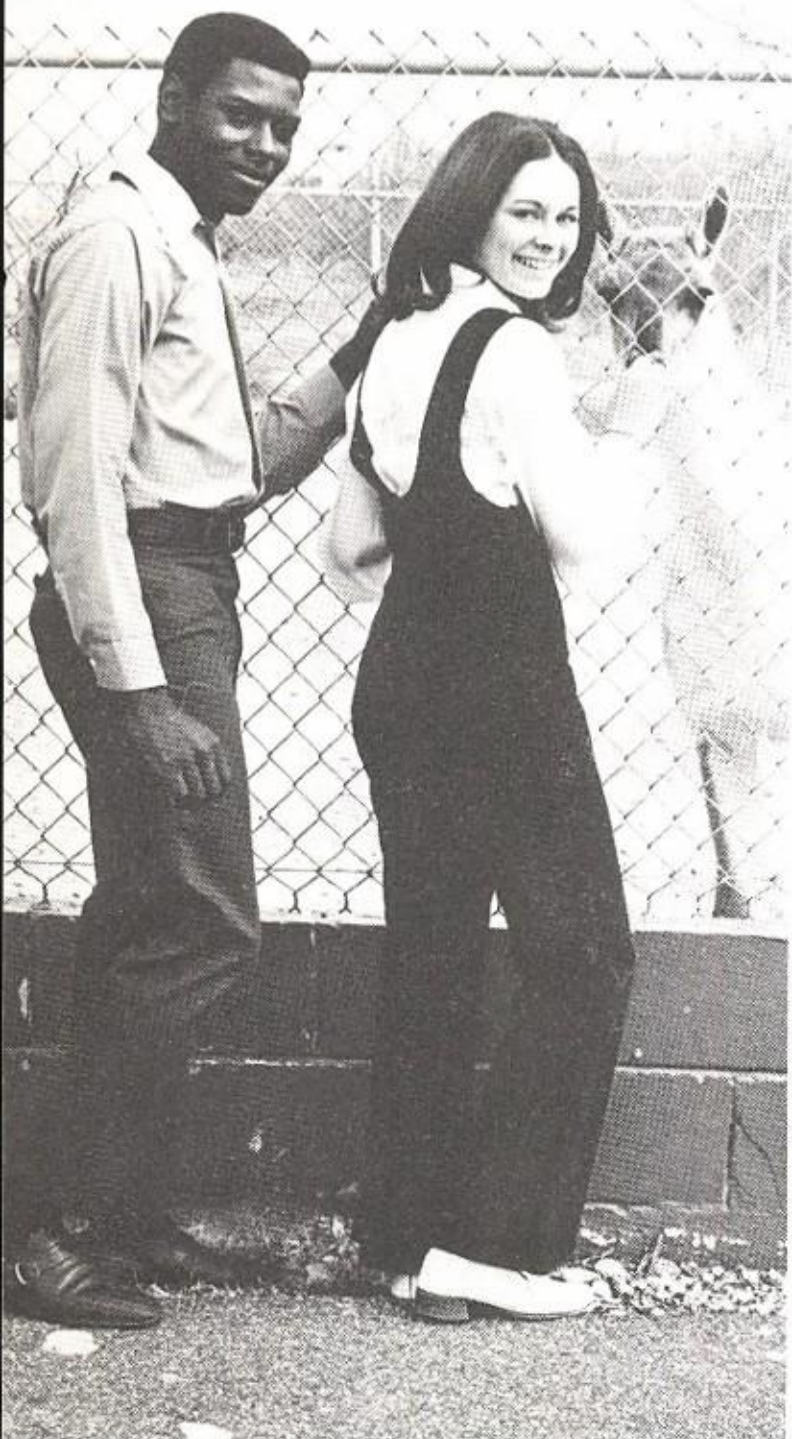

spring opens new doors

Spring always brings changes as well as the renewal of old traditions. So it is with school. Entertainment provided by a heretofore unknown band and a class play, is presented. Traditional Student Council and cheerleader elections, but with new people, attract everyone's attention for awhile.

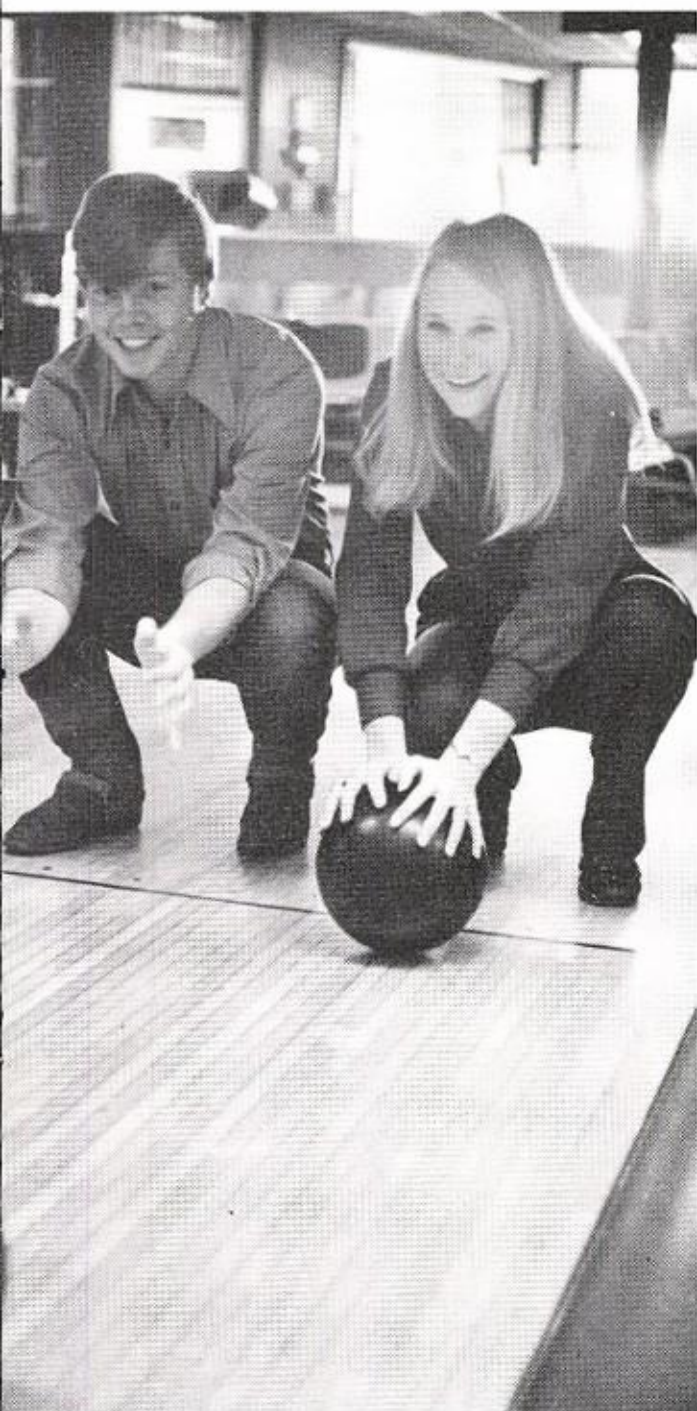

outstanding citizens

Every month two students are elected as Citizens of the Month. Citizens of the Month are nominated by a special Student Council committee and voted on by the entire Student Council. At the end of the year two students are chosen as Citizens of the Year.

The Citizens of the Month were: for March, Dawn Granger and Mark Batson (bottom left); for April, Vanessa Tynes and Carl Hambrick (top right); and for May, Karen Kasmiroski and Blanton Haug (top left). The Citizens of the Year were Melinda Curnutt and James Shoemaker (center). A few (opposite top) of the outstanding students from the various departments stand proudly as they wait for the rest of the students to be recognized. Mr. Alexander (opposite bottom) prepares to present an award to an approaching VICA member.

seniors recognized

As the school year draws to a close, there are many last minute activities and recognition of many difficult accomplishments. Besides the usual citizens of the month, seniors are honored for their high school years at Senior Recognition. Students are recognized for being class assistants, most representative of clubs, and most outstanding students from various departments. Citizens of the Year are also announced.

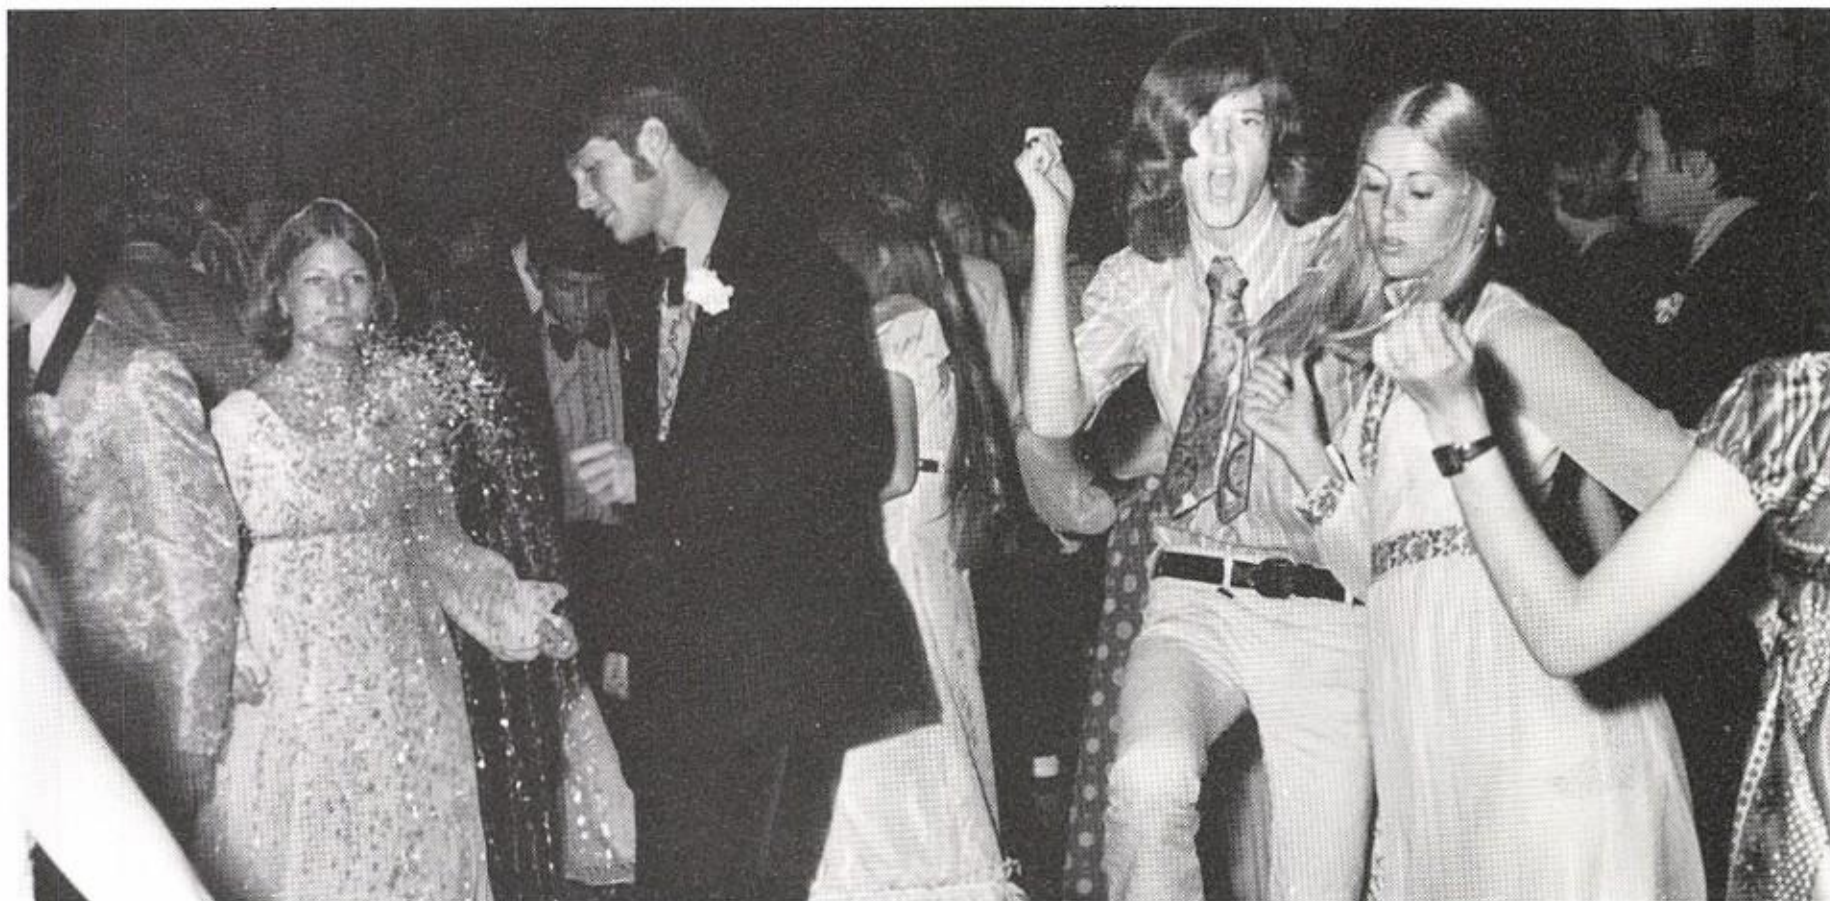

long awaited end approaches

All seniors wait the whole year long for senior events that climax graduation from high school. Among these are senior recognition, playday, prom, and of course, graduation itself. Obviously, the most informal of these is playday. Right after senior recognition, all the seniors are turned loose until after lunch and then report to Lions Park for a fun-filled afternoon. There are seniors swimming, seniors playing putt-putt, seniors playing volleyball, seniors everywhere! Bringing the weekend to a close, is the Senior Prom on Saturday night. This year, from the moment you walked in the door, 'til the moment you walked out, you imagined that you were in the mystic land of India. All in all, these events made up a never to be forgotten weekend.

Mr. Kenner (opposite top left) shows just how much he trusts the seniors by keeping a close watch on them. Mr. Conner (opposite bottom left) seems to relax a little as he talks with a senior at playday. Ralph Getman (opposite top right) is wondering when he is ever going to hit the water. All together, the evening (center) proved to be a success as everyone was having a good time. While Bonni Hamilton and Sammy Sexton (below) study the fountain, Kirk Kinzback and his date get after it. Tickets (bottom right) were sold at the prom to raffle off the elephant. The winner was Lucy Felon.

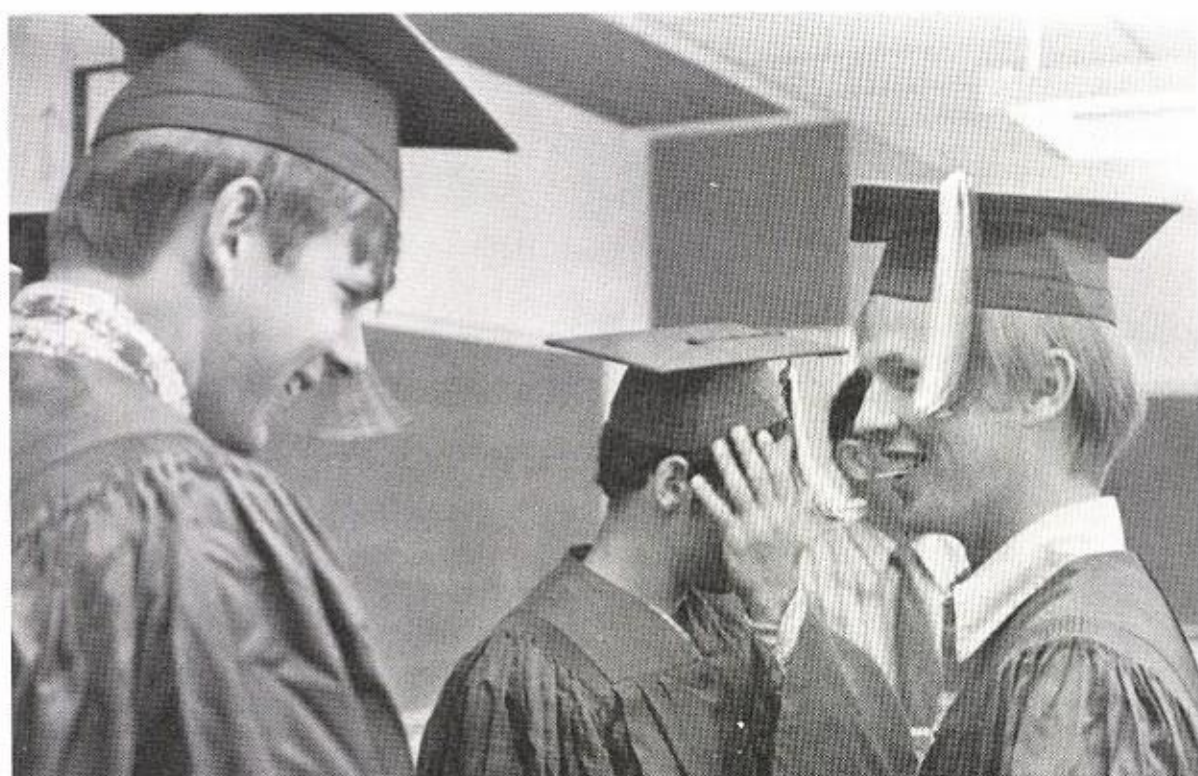

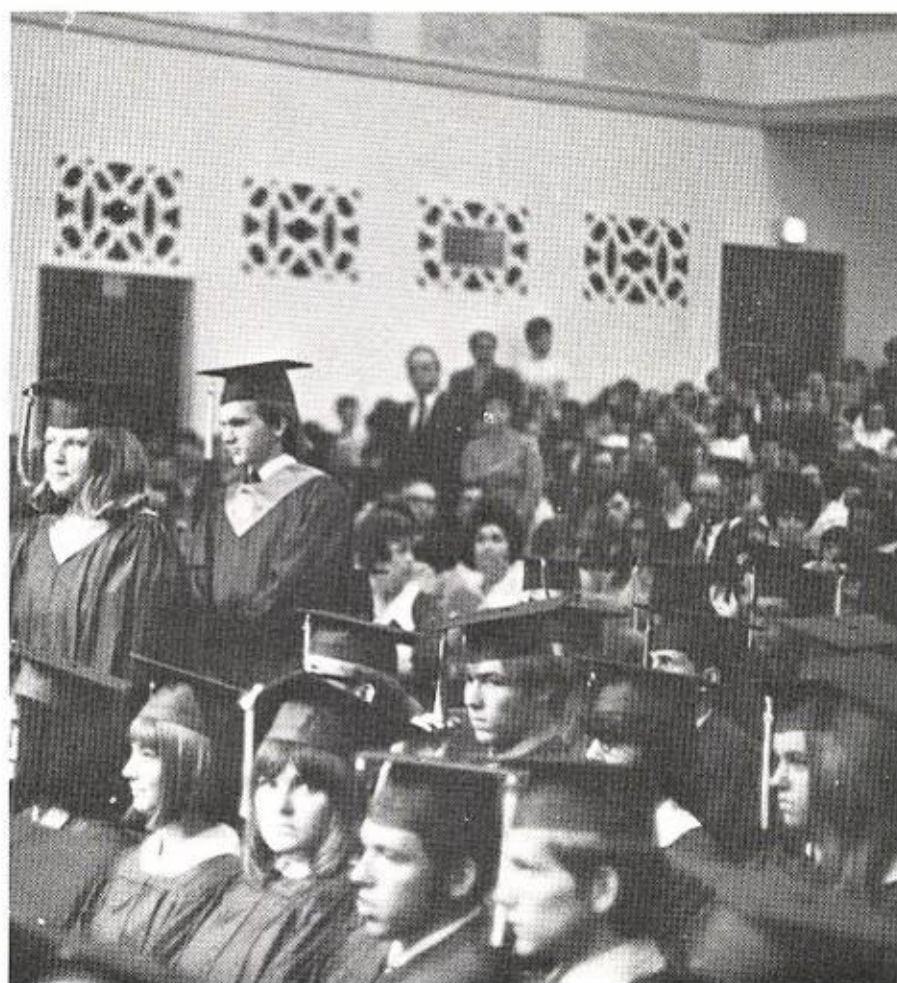

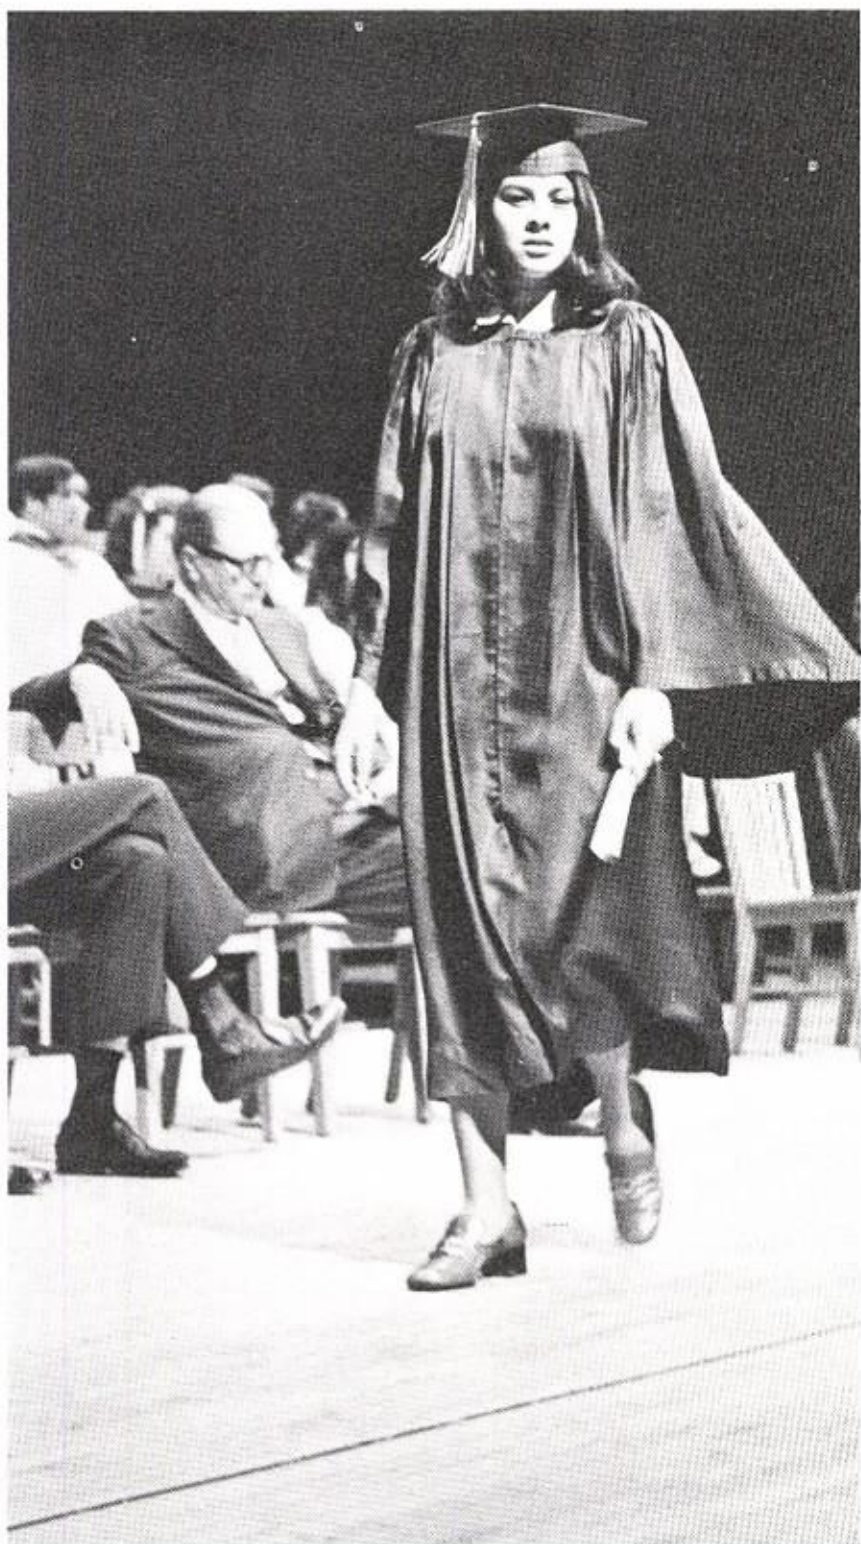

graduation

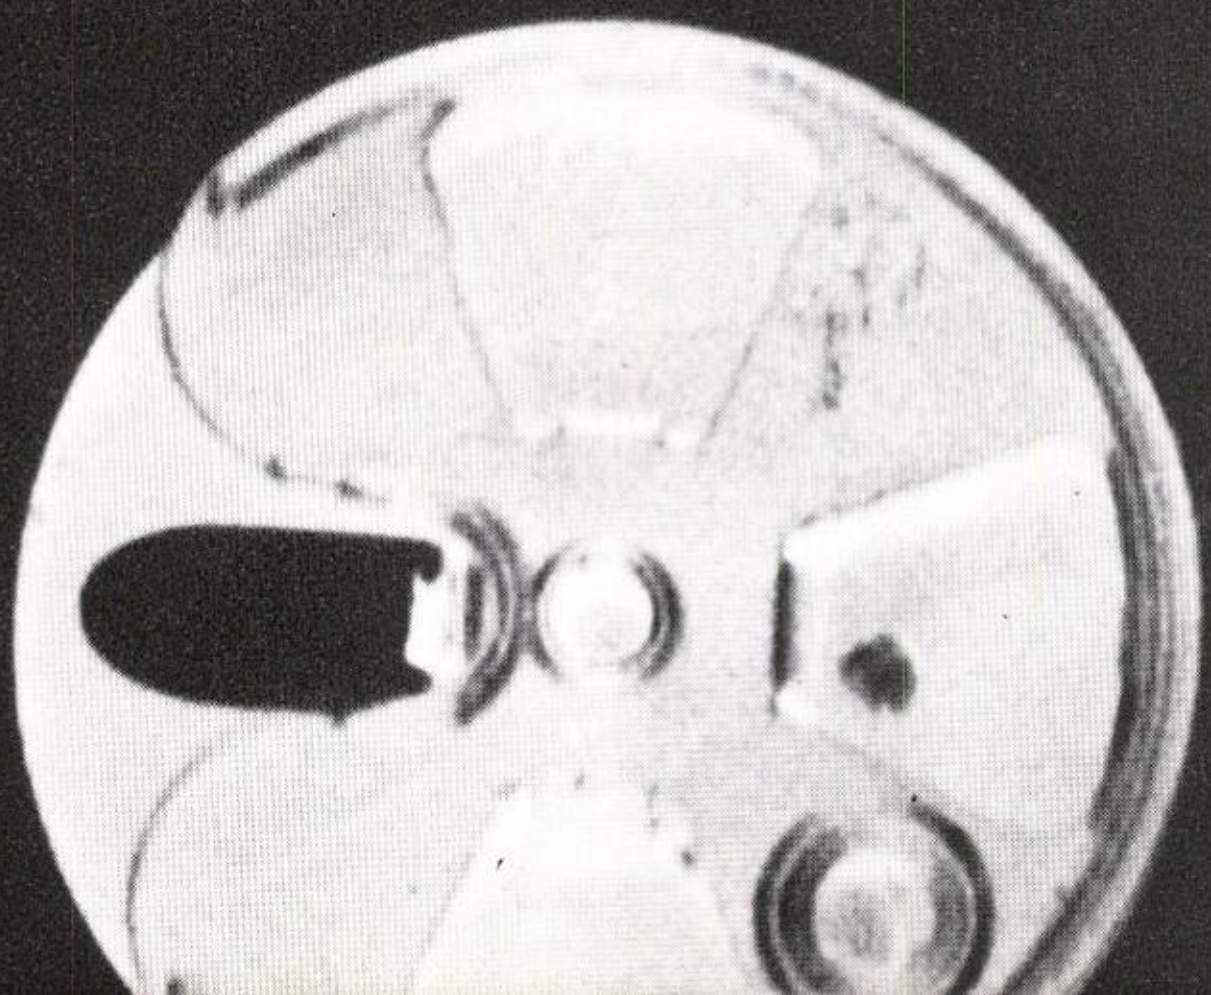

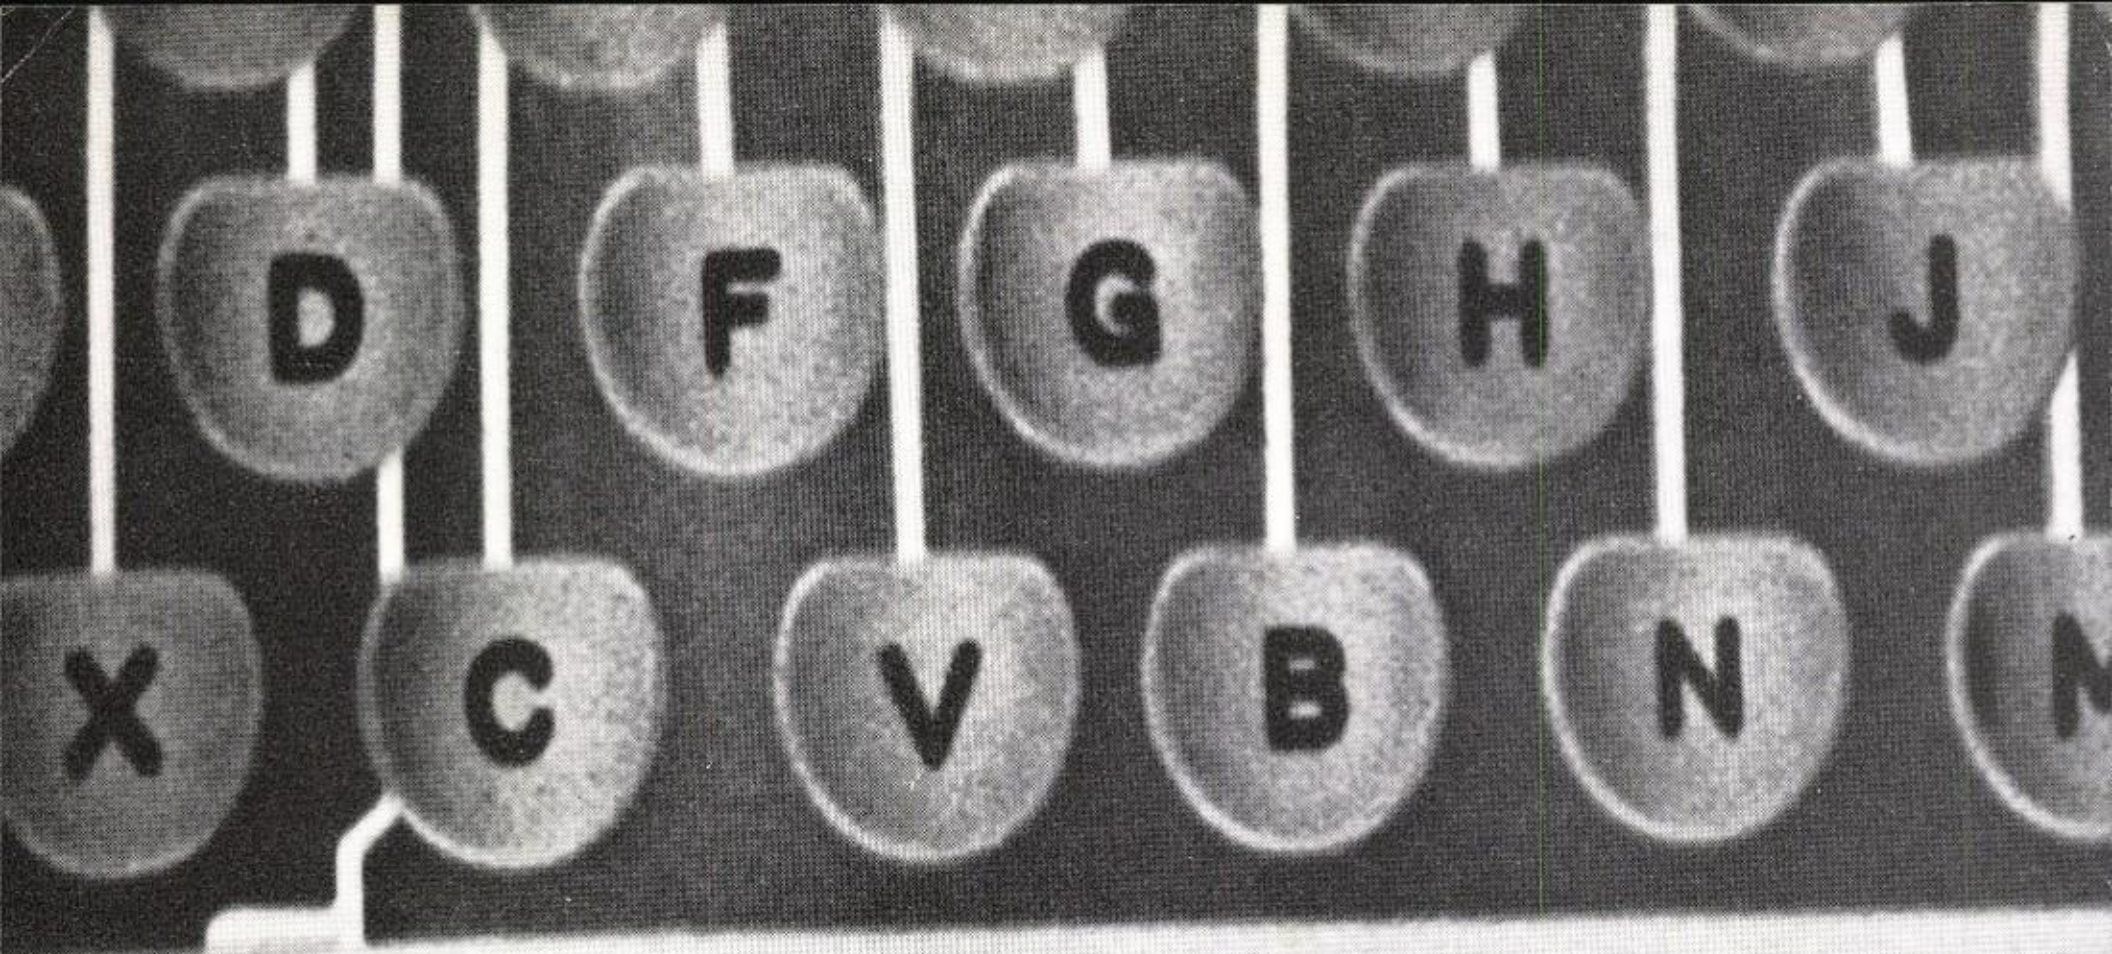

. . . And who would ever think that they would be crying after twelve long years of school had been completed . . . Years rich in laughter and tears, hopes and disappointments, successes and failures. Years when dreams have come true—or been shattered in the making. And yet looking back, we find that these years have been the best years of our whole lifetime. A time of growing up and now stopping to look back and saying, "These years were well worth it."

1971 has been a time of change at University High School. There has been a progression of events dealing with the ratio of black to white teachers. As a result three black teachers joined the faculty at midterm.

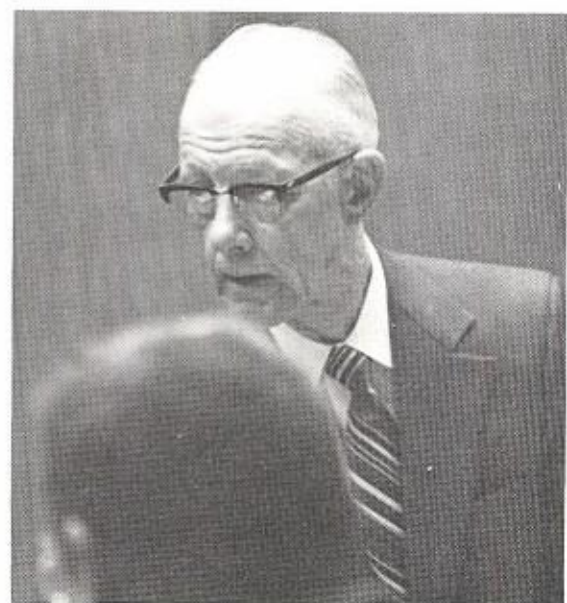

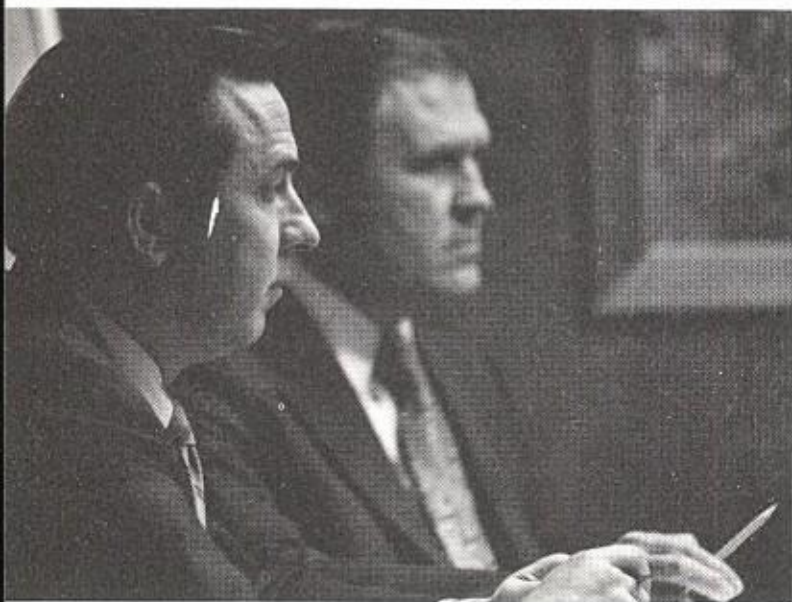

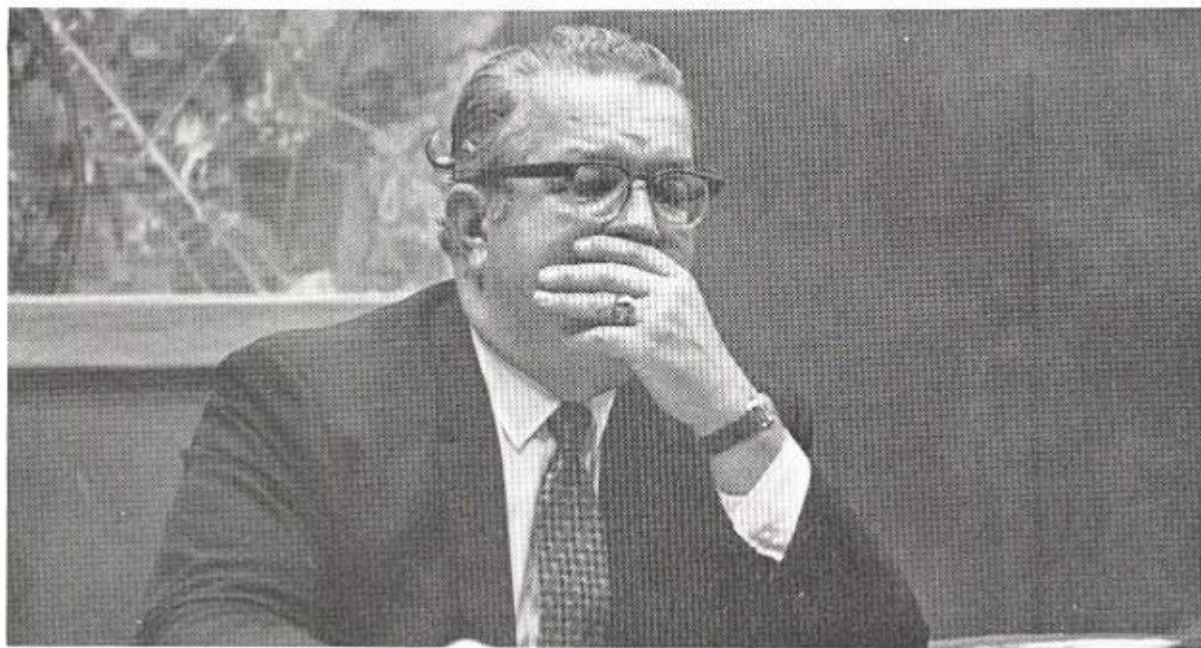

The dress code has been relaxed in contrast to years past. For the first time the taboos of pants for girls and long hair for boys has been lifted, but some other things remain the same. This year, like every year, has had its triumphs and adversities. If triumphs prevail, the year has been worthwhile. Determine the extent of success for yourself.

New teachers joining the faculty list at University are Mrs. Augusta Randle, (middle top), Mrs. Nell Williams (bottom middle), and Mr. Joseph Williams (above).

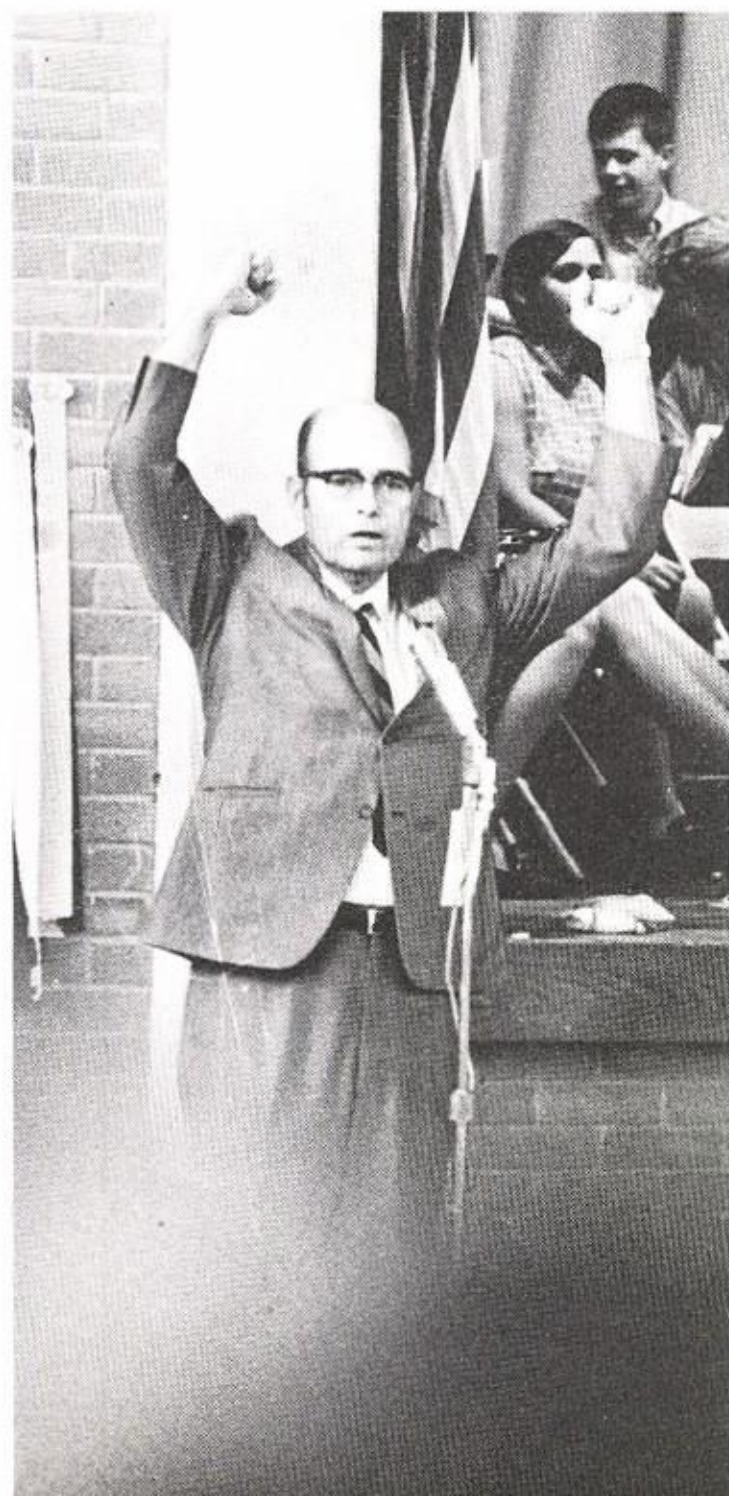

backbone of our school

The school board has worked hard for the students of Waco ISD. The members have tried to advance education so that we can better ourselves today for the society of tomorrow.

As has the school board, Mr. Pearson has changed some customs of University for the good. With wisdom, humor, and understanding, he has displayed his talents as a principal.

Mr. Clifford Knape (top left), Mr. Malcolm Duncan, (middle top), Mr. John Faulkner and Mr. Lyndon Olson (middle left), Mr. J. E. Crews (bottom left), Mr. Avery Downing, (middle bottom), and Mr. H. G. Pearson.

various groups unite students and faculty

Three main groups which help coordinate University High School's activities are: the office workers, counselors, and the P-TA. The office staff and counselors serve to keep students happy while the P-TA promotes a healthy atmosphere between faculty and parents. Open house provides an opportunity to accomplish this.

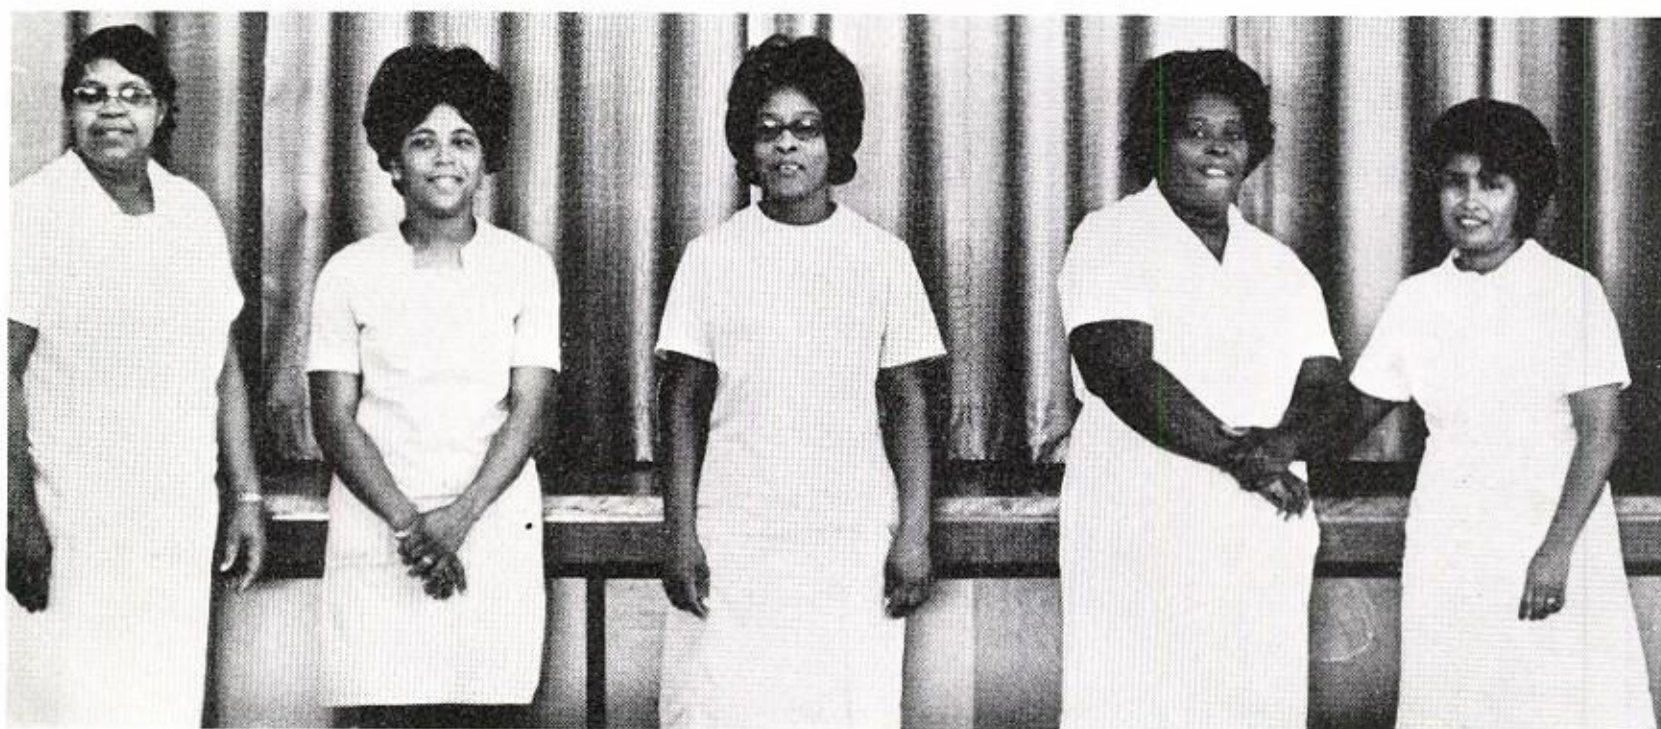

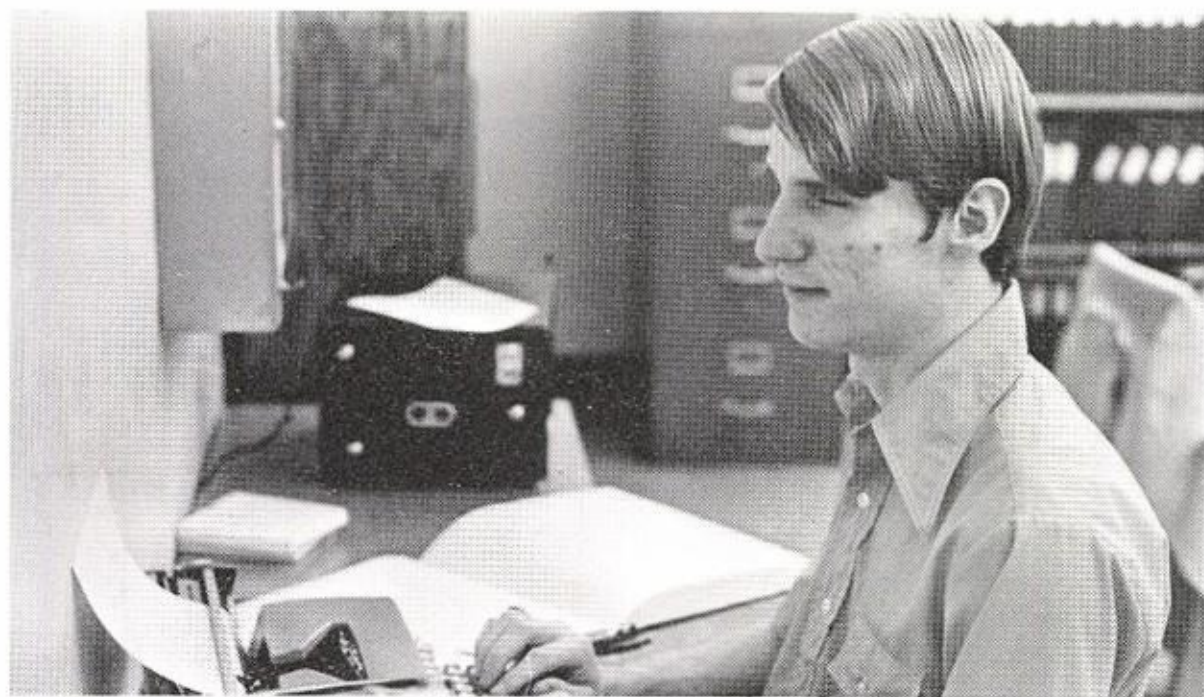

Office workers Claudia Horner and Yolanda Hernandez (far left), assist students with their daily needs. Mrs. Smith (opposite above) provides Miss Carkhuff with some much needed information. The P-TA officers were Mrs. Martin (upper left), Mrs. Terry (center left), Mrs. Moss (center), Mrs. Wienecke (center right), Mrs. Kluge (bottom left), and Mr. Pearson (bottom center). Mr. and Mrs. John Vanston enjoy a conversation with Mrs. Mary Brown at P-TA open house.

working together

The beauty and care of a school is determined by the staff that assumes the responsibility. With a friendly manner to all, the custodians, maids, and cooks keep our school clean and neat.

Teachers in the special education department have brought out many fine qualities in their students. The performance achieved by these students lends pride, enjoyment, and success to their lives.

Custodians are: Mr. J. W. Harper, Mr. Billy Campbell, and Mr. George Campbell (opposite top) Maids are: Mrs. Myrtle Cummings, Mrs. Rosie Blocker, Mrs. Lillie Harrison, Mrs. Vertie Collins, and Mrs. Lucy Sissneria (opposite middle). Cooks are: Mrs. Edna Cook, Mrs. Jo Ann Tipton, Mrs. Anna Bell Tallion, Mrs. Alice De Grate, Mrs. Delma Rhodes, Mrs. Doris Brandon, Mrs. Lula Tyrone, and Mrs. Golria Evans. (opposite bottom). math and history require discipline

The history department encourages students to see the situations in the world today as outgrowths of failures and successes of our predecessors.

Although UHS math scholars formulate no earth-shaking theories, they manage to learn the practical and abstract aspects of various number theories.

Through the teaching of literature, grammar, and writing technique, the English teachers endeavor to equip UHS students with better tools for a true understanding of our society. Expression of one's feelings is perhaps more important today than even before, and it is the job of the English department to improve this vital skill.

The language department, composed of studies in German, Latin, and Spanish, provide interested pupils with knowledge in these subjects required of most college-bound students.

homemaking and p.e. prepare for life

The homemaking department at University not only gives girls a chance to improve their skills in the domestic arts, but also provides an opportunity for girls to discuss all the aspects of a vital family life. Through instruction and discussion, attempts to assist girls in realizing a creative approach to problems such as these transpire.

Though P.E. may be distasteful to many students, the course provides both the regular exercise that can be so important to a person and many moments of shared enjoyment through competition.

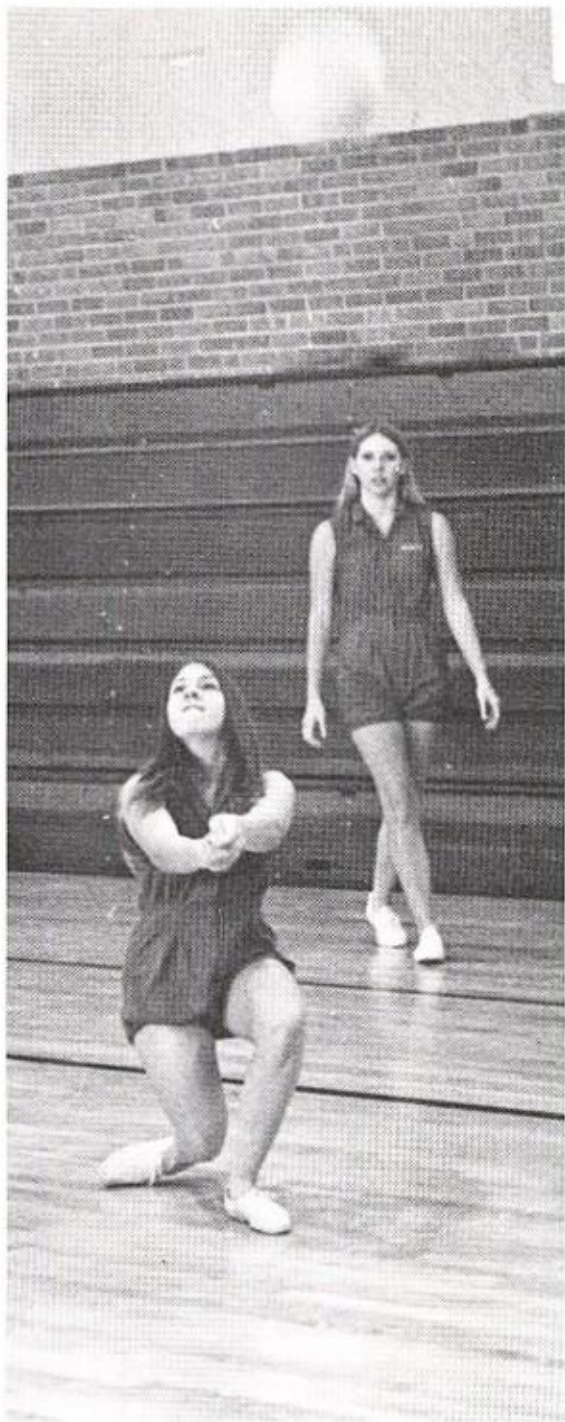

Rhonda Felkner (above left) takes a short break from her sewing while Evelyn Tankersley (lower right) busily pursues her project. students strive for artistic perfection

To guide the development of skill and creativity with the hands is the purpose of those departments we label as fine arts—woodwork, art, handicrafts, and band. In these departments one finds the emphasis on the pursuit of aesthetic judgement and the ability to use this judgement for creation. Creation for the UHS fine arts students mean anything from the construction of a chair to the performance of a march. The students involved in fine arts not only gain personal satisfaction from their accomplishment, but they also share their satisfaction with other students through exhibitions and performances.

various subjects

improve skills

The subjects that fall under the designation of special skills are those that help the student to improve the use of his physical and mental attributes in order to accomplish specific tasks. The students who attend classes in this category can learn both the clerical skills necessary for writing and the practical use of such skills in the production of a publication. While some are mastering the agility and judgement necessary to drive a car, others are increasing their knowledge of the exact procedures for dissembling one. The Distributive Education program allows many at UHS to learn new skills as they work. Miss Carkhuff assists students in improving their reading skills with their eyes while Mrs. Wade assists several of our number in reading with their hands.

Diane Rushing (opposite above) works diligently to finish typing production. Vicki Lane takes a break while Marty Rubio rearranges her hair (opposite below). science explores Seeking to make science a more interesting subject for the students, the UHS science department instituted new courses and sections of study in the various departments. Mrs. Myrtle Hickman directed a group of students in studies of advanced biology that included environmental study. The physics students had for the first time an in depth study of the aspects of lasers. Mr. Moegelin joined the department this year teaching one course in atmospheric science.

playday and recognition

As the 1971 year closes, seniors display various emotions. Feelings of happiness are mingled with sadness. As the end draws near many memories of University High School will always be recalled.

Dawn Granger and Melinda Curnutt (opposite top) enjoy the water at playday. Tana Lawson and Robert Bood (opposite bottom left) show their true colors at Playday. The honor students were named graduation night in the order of their scholastic achievement. They are a symbol of hard work and desire.

top five per cent

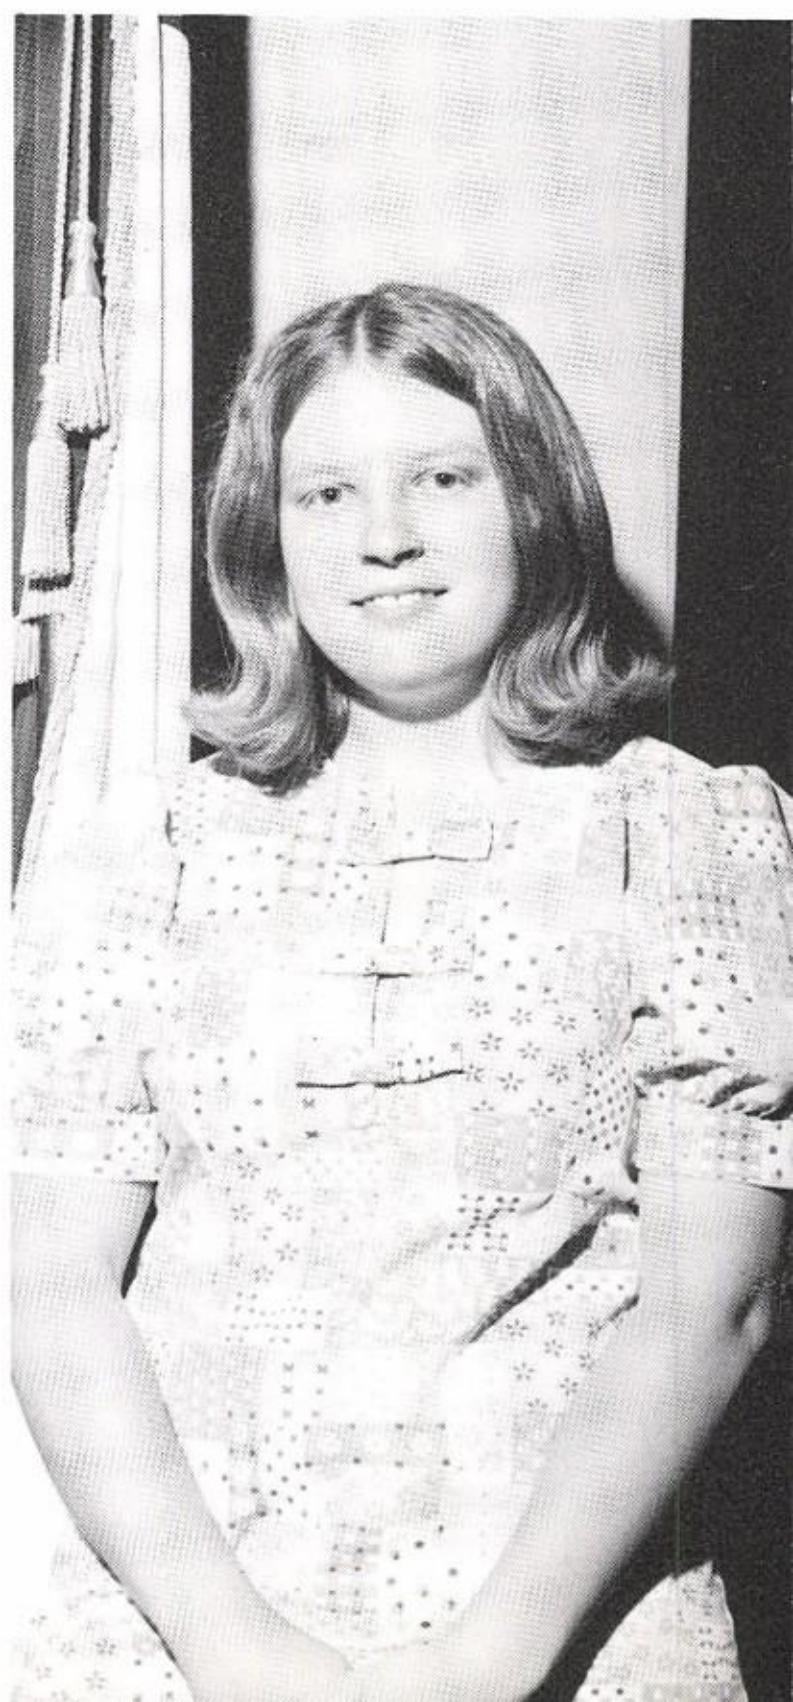

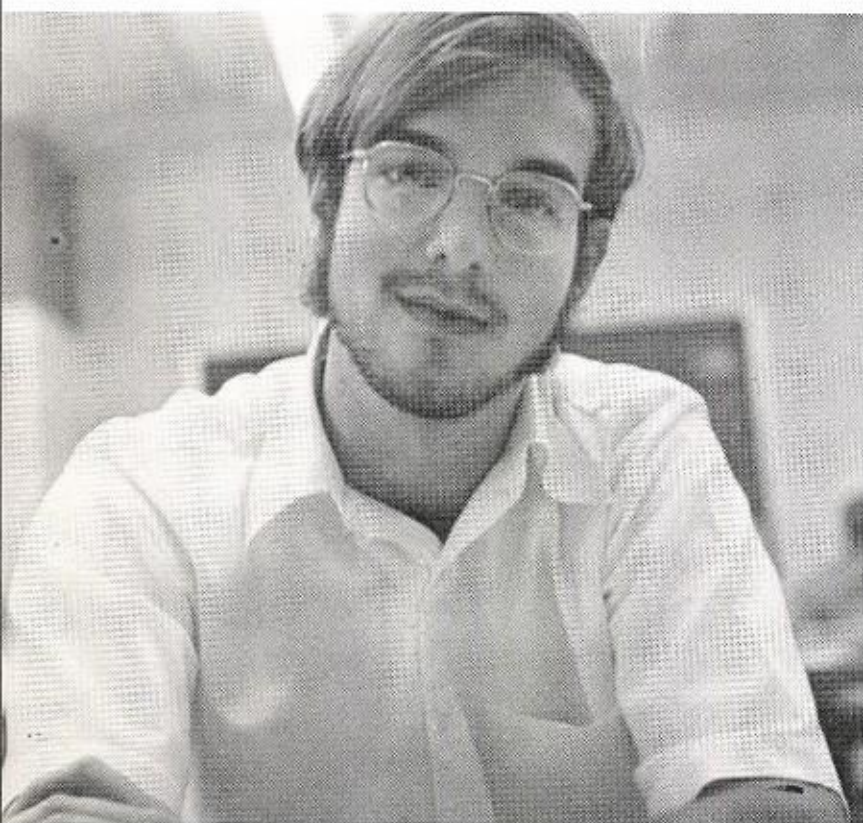

The top five per cent consisted of fourteen students for the year. Those honored had high scholastic averages and were honored along with their parents at graduation.

Carol Brown was honored as Valedictorian while Joel Smith was named Salutatorian. Joel Smith (left top) was awarded a National Merit Scholarship. Carl Hambrick (middle top) received the Northwest Kawanis scholarship. Stuart Spoede (top) was presented a scholarship to Texas A&M. Dwayne Carter (middle left) and Jimmy Ortega (lower right) were given art scholarships. Ronnie Hope (middle) and Cathy Murphy (bottom left) were presented the PTA scholarships. applause, hardwork, + tears = highlighters

Discipline is the keyword in the roll of a Highlighter. Standing, marching, practice, and spirit try the Highlighter's patience. Throughout the year the Highlighter demonstrates responsibility and personal desire to better her school. The Highlighter organization is important in building the individual character of its members.

Trojans placed a shadow of a scare in the minds of the district 15-4A teams with their non-district record. To end with a district record of 2-12 does not indicate the fine performance of a team consisting of seven seniors and two promising juniors.

cagers overpowered by district foes

A practically new B-team consisting of 11 sophomores and two juniors revealed some unknown talents through a year of frustrating, but rewarding experiences. The record of the B-team was one win and 20 losses.

Varsity members are: Lupe Rivas, Louis Rendon, Dale Goss, Kenneth Dew, Bill Carroll, Gary Milam, Earl Mason, and Paul Kluge.

Junior Varsity members are: Front row, Tippy Tipton, Dickie Golden, Terry Linder, Tony Nickols, David Dishner, Danny Rice, and William

new coach, promising team, but more losses

Under the direction of new coach Mike Adams, the Trojans had a season of seven wins and 20 losses. The team was led by eight experienced seniors who were backed by 11 promising juniors and sophomores. Representing the team well was junior Sammy Sexton, first baseman, who was named to the All-Zone team. Sammy Sexton and Gray Milam carried the highest batting averages for the Trojans.

Short stop, Jim Cortez (opposite top) shows his powers, while Coach Adams looks on. Forcing opponent back to second is one of Billy Johnson's (opposite bottom) jobs playing third base. Gary Pharr (top) applies his know-how behind the plate. Billy Johnson (left) tries hard to get a hit. Jim Cortez (above) looks happy after getting a hit.

baseball team runs short of wishes

Skills and probabilities connected with sports were highly reflected this season by juniors of UHS. Alfred Garcia being one of these, competed in regional and held one of the fastest times in state for the 440-yard dash. The team was represented well in district track and placed fifth.

Turning on the speed in the 440-yard dash, Alfred Garcia (opposite top) moves on. Coming out of the starting blocks, Tommy Goss (opposite bottom) rounds the first turn. Trojan pole vaulter, Gary Storer (top left), is on his way to a record-breaking vault. Tommy Goss (bottom), looking tired, finishes up the 220-yard dash. Richard Valdez (above) starts fast in one of his many races.

Bill Matyastik, a junior, not only rated in district tennis competition, but also rated in national meets. His distinction has helped accentuate this sport at University High School. The tennis team competed in two out-of-town tournaments and two Waco tournaments of which one was the district meet.

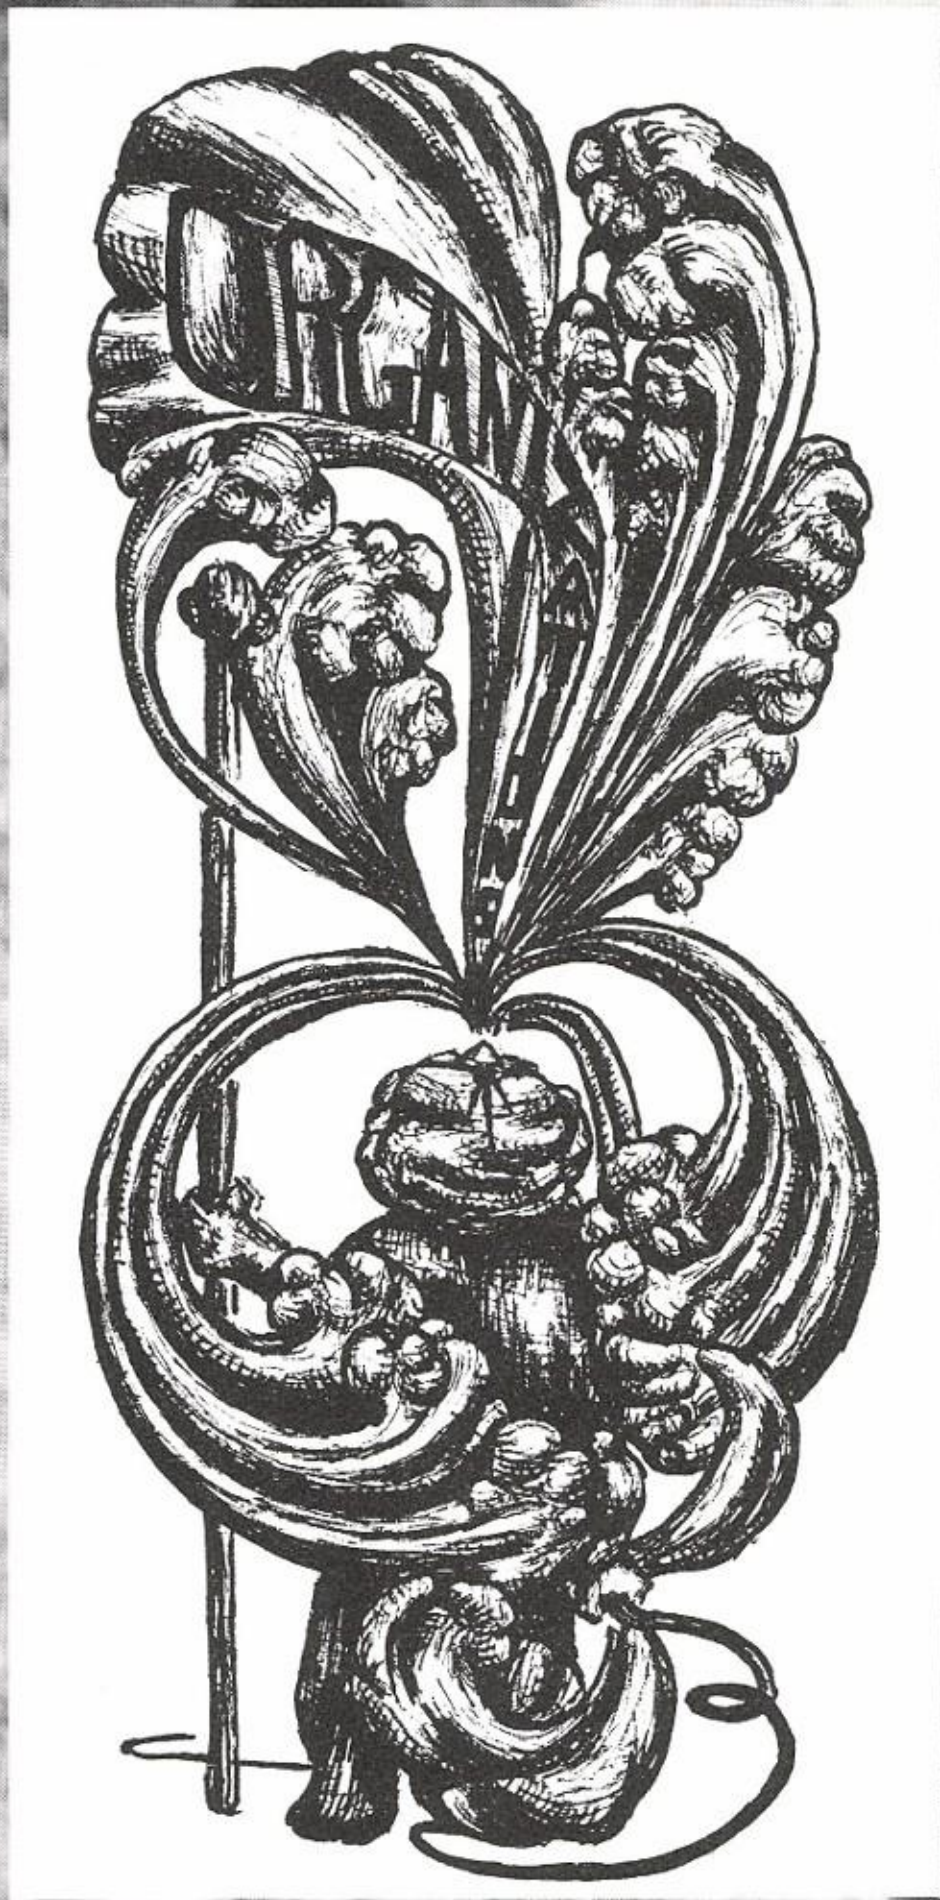

trojans gain recognition

The Trojan girls keep up the pace of physical activities by excelling in sports, not only as spectators, but as participants. A group of 15 girls made up the Baylor Sports Day team. The various sports included aerial speed ball, volley ball, softball, tennis, badminton, bowling, and track. The Trojan track team proved to be a good one by placing second among the Waco schools. The sponsor of the team was Mrs. Mary Hinton.

Allen Parollini (opposite top center) uses his powerful backhand. Sue Ford (opposite bottom left), with great form, has a mighty serve. After serving, Patti Bynum (opposite top left) watches the ball. Amy Barrett (opposite top right) prepares to return a serve. Bill "The balls have it" Matyastik (opposite bottom right) hacks it back. Brenda Carrigan (left) hands paton to Montea Allison during Baylor Sports Day. Up in the air is Debby Shriver (bottom left), while doing the long jump. Gina Olson (below) clears the bar in the high jump.

Decked out in sports attire of all descriptions, the GAA's belie the myth of the flabby American. The girls kept in good shape by exercising their artistic talents at the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. Other activities in the GAA's included selling mums at homecoming, participating in the POW letters to Hanoi and giving a Christmas basket to a needy family. Presiding over the meetings this year were Sue Ford, president, Melinda Curnutt, vice-president and Dawn Granger, secretary.

key club

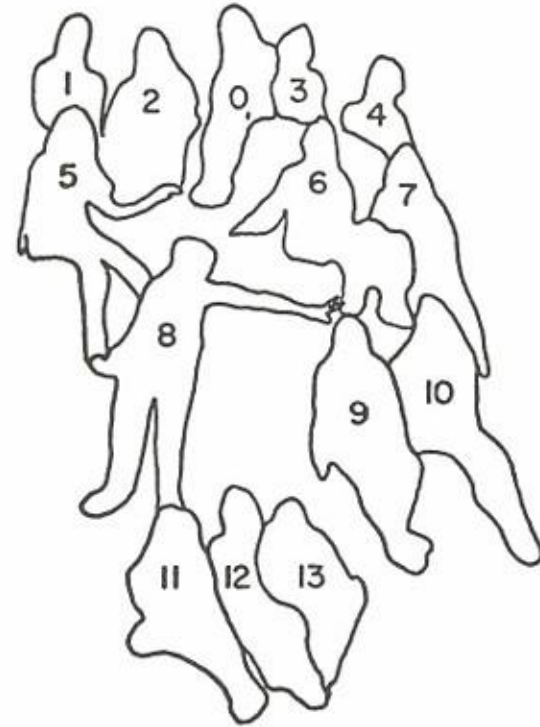

Caped crusaders one and all are posed to defend America, motherhood, apple pie, slaw and ardor. They did this through sponsoring the March of Dimes, an all night coffee stand on the Dallas highway, and co-sponsoring the Scholarship coffee drive for 1971. The chief crusader this year was James Sowders and the co-crusader was Mark Batson.

spirit staff

The '71 SPIRIT Staff was composed of 24 capable, responsible people. Kay Deloach held the title of editor. With the aid of Mrs. Ferguson, the staff overcame many crises. Dwayne Carter, layout editor, carried many responsibilities other than his own. Jimmy Ortega, art editor, did the drawings for the division pages. Joel Smith and Ronnie Marroquin are responsible for the improvement of the photography over previous years.

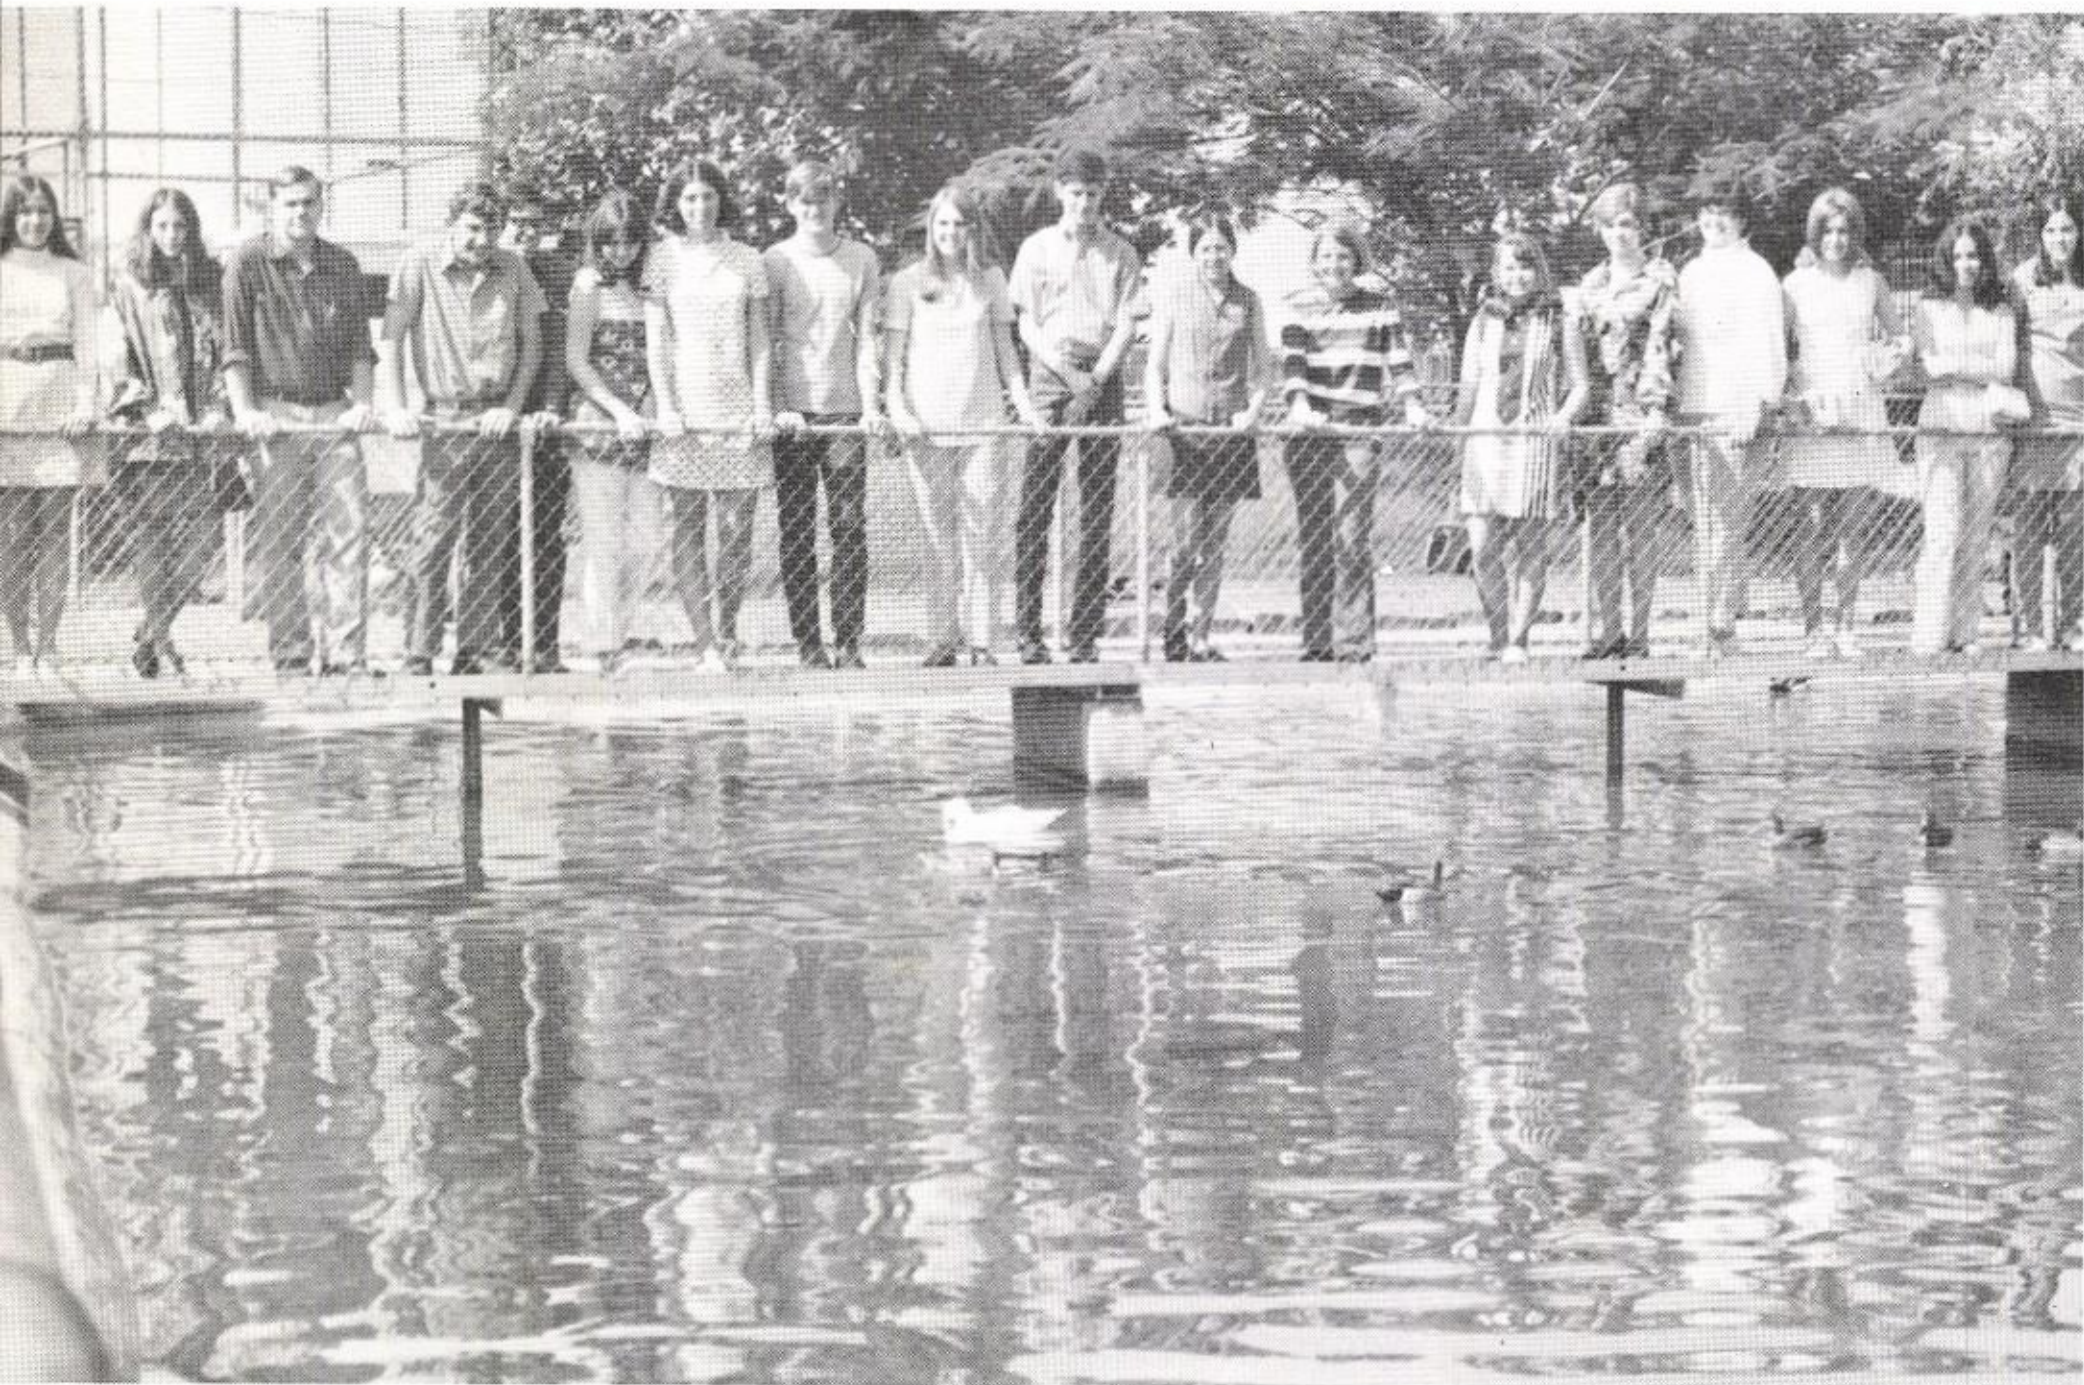

wooden horse staff

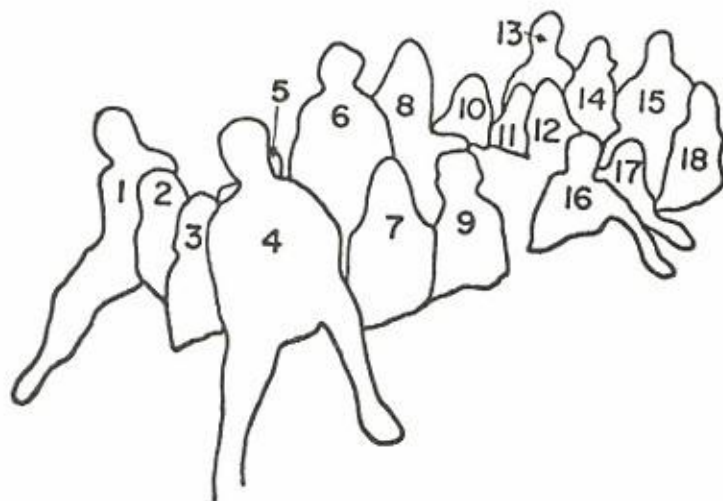

Inspiration comes in unusual ways to an unusual staff of writers. However, their inspiration has made them successful. The WOODEN HORSE has won two first division ratings in competition with other Texas High school newspapers.

Editor of the WOODEN HORSE this year was Terry Morriss. Melinda Currutt was the editor of page two. Cathy Murphy was responsible for page three, and Sue Ford for page four. In charge of advertising were Bonni Hamilton and Carla Graham. The advisor was Mrs. Sarilee Ferguson. Serving as photographers were Joel Smith, Ronnie Marroquin and Abel Flores.

student council

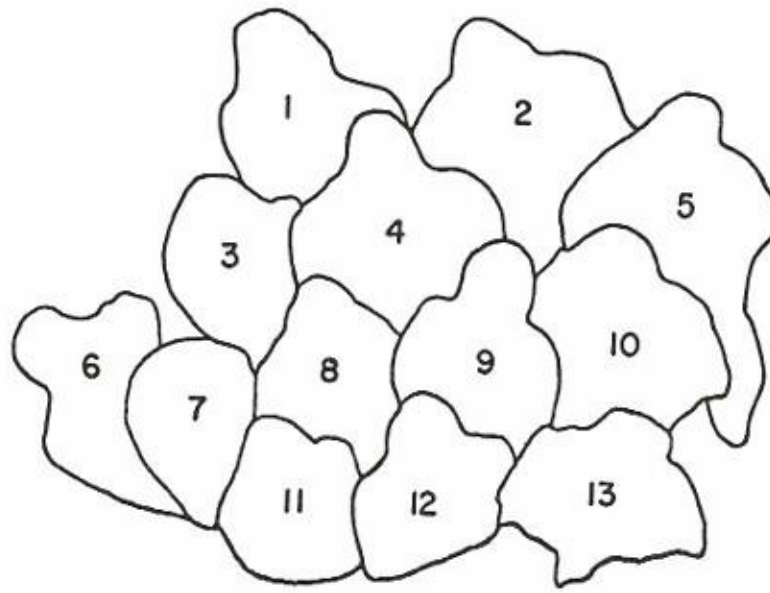

This was a very successful year for the Student Council, due to the lively and enthusiastic spirit of the members and support given by the faculty. Any project that was taken on by the Student Council was backed up by every member. Many of their wildly supported projects included sponsoring Thanksgiving baskets, giving a sockhop, selling tickets for the P-TA Scholarship Coffee, and raising money for the W.O. Griffin Scholarship. All of these projects can be "wrapped up" in the aluminum foil decorations from the Homecoming Dance sponsored by Student Council.

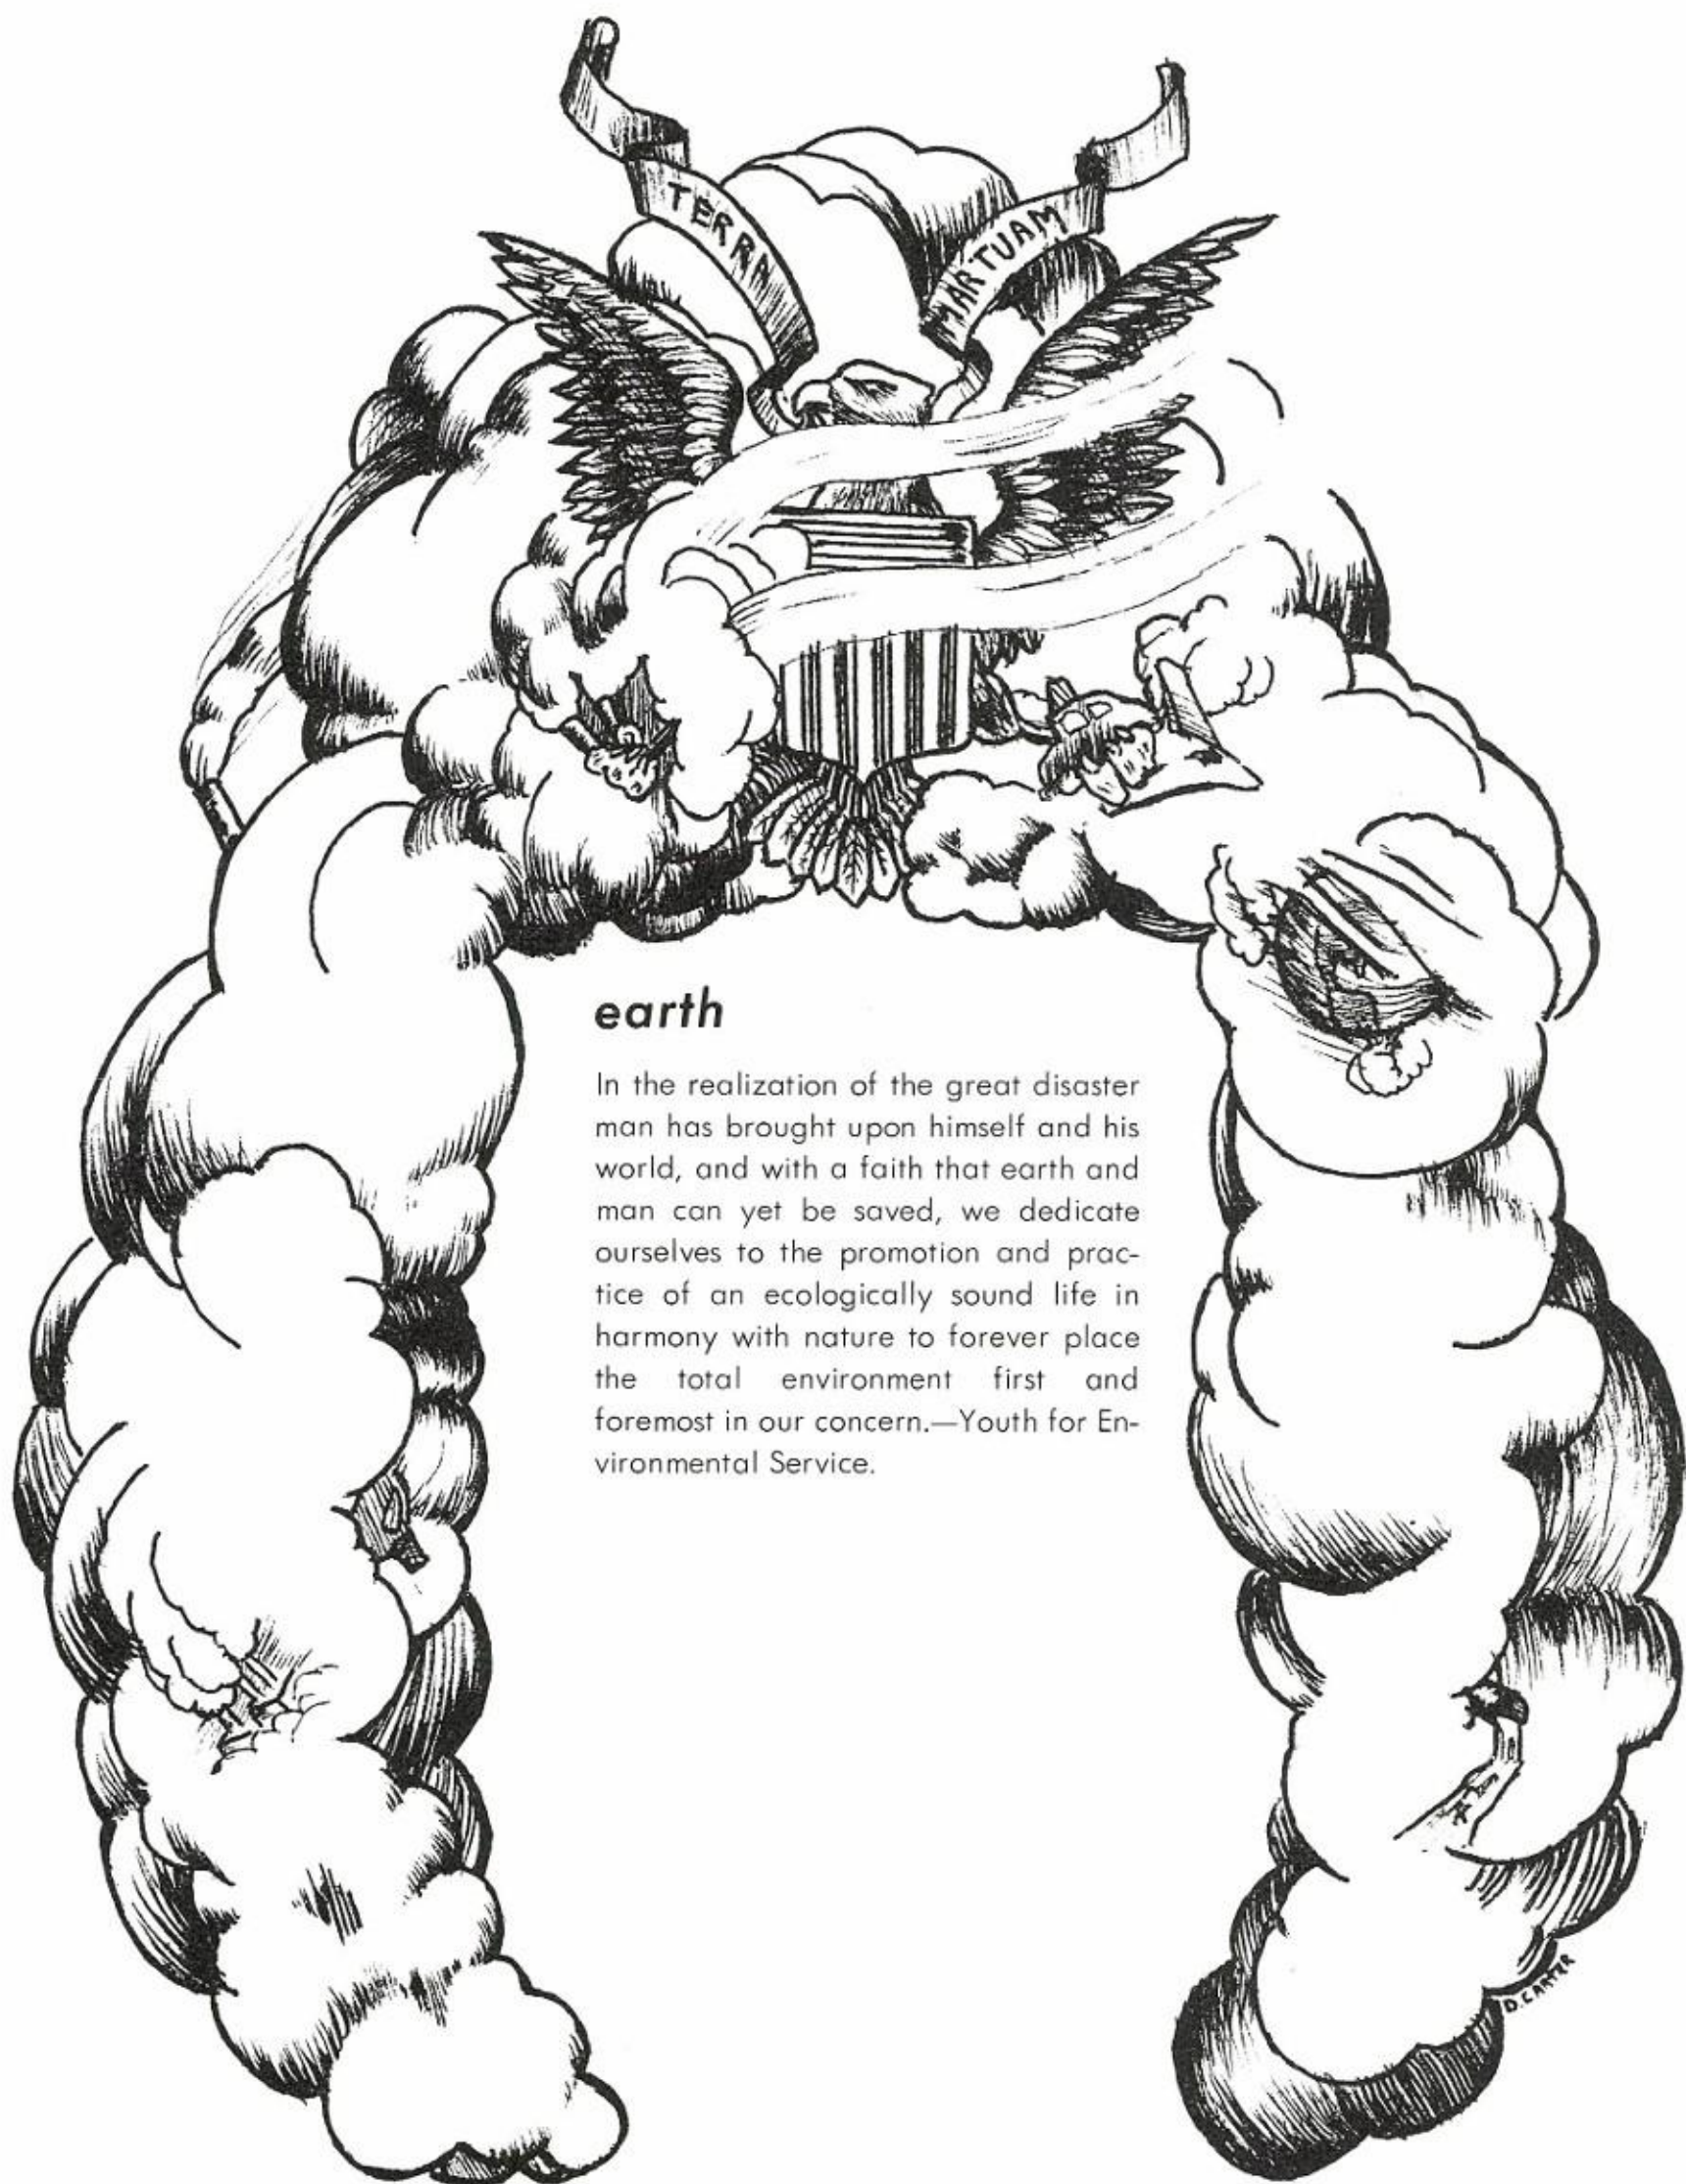

Students (left) listen attentively as ideas are discussed. Jerry Merritt, president, (lower left) relaxes as Secretary Vanessa Tynes reads the minutes. Not pictured is Buddy Dennard, vice president, and Vickye Grisham, treasurer. Questionable dancing customs are displayed by Willie Simmons at the Student Council sockhop (below).

In the realization of the great disaster man has brought upon himself and his world, and with a faith that earth and man can yet be saved, we dedicate ourselves to the promotion and practice of an ecologically sound life in harmony with nature to forever place the total environment first and foremost in our concern.—Youth for Environmental Service.

Members of the Trojan Band take pride in their organization and efficiency and believe it or not they do take time out between breaks to rehearse. Whether it is performing at the football games or marching in the Christmas parade, the band's hard work is evident. The band was active in Interscholastic League competition this year which included the marching contest, the solo and ensemble contest and the concert contest. Several band members were involved in try-outs for the All-District and All-Region Bands. The band also gave a concert during February.

The National Forensic League is a national organization whose purpose is to promote competition among speech students. Students who participate in speech tournaments earn points which are registered with the League. Scholarships are awarded to students with the highest points. The UHS chapter of NFL is open to students who have competed or plan to compete in Interscholastic League competition. Areas of competition include debate, extemporaneous speaking, prose, poetry and drama.

auto mechanics

There are very few occasions on which one may see the members of Auto Mechanics free from work clothes, grime, and grease under the fingernails. Some of these occasions are with their dates on the barbeque they give, delivering a Christmas basket to a needy family, and a candy and VICA bumper sticker sale. Can you recognize any of these grease monkeys out of their natural habitat?

Beware all you bunny rabbits—those fearless Field and Stream members are on the loose again. However, there is a bright side, bunnies. They've taken up duck hunting—one guy hunts; everybody else ducks. The club was organized to promote good sportsmanship and rifle safety. They have participated this year in fishing contests, dove shooting contests, and a course in rifle safety.

Officers this year are Paul Kluge, president and Tommy Radle, vice-president.

spirit club

Although the Spirit Club (or is it Tirips Club?) can't spell, they do excel in many other areas. In an effort to promote school spirit, they sponsor many activities, including car caravans to the football games, a card section at Homecoming, and posters for the football games. The Spirit Club members put their best foot forward in the March of Dimes Sole March and in their contribution to the P.T.A. ticket drive. The club stayed busy all year with projects that ranged from a bake sale to an Easter egg hunt for under-privileged children. One project we would suggest for the Spirit Club next year would be to take spelling lessons.

youth for christ

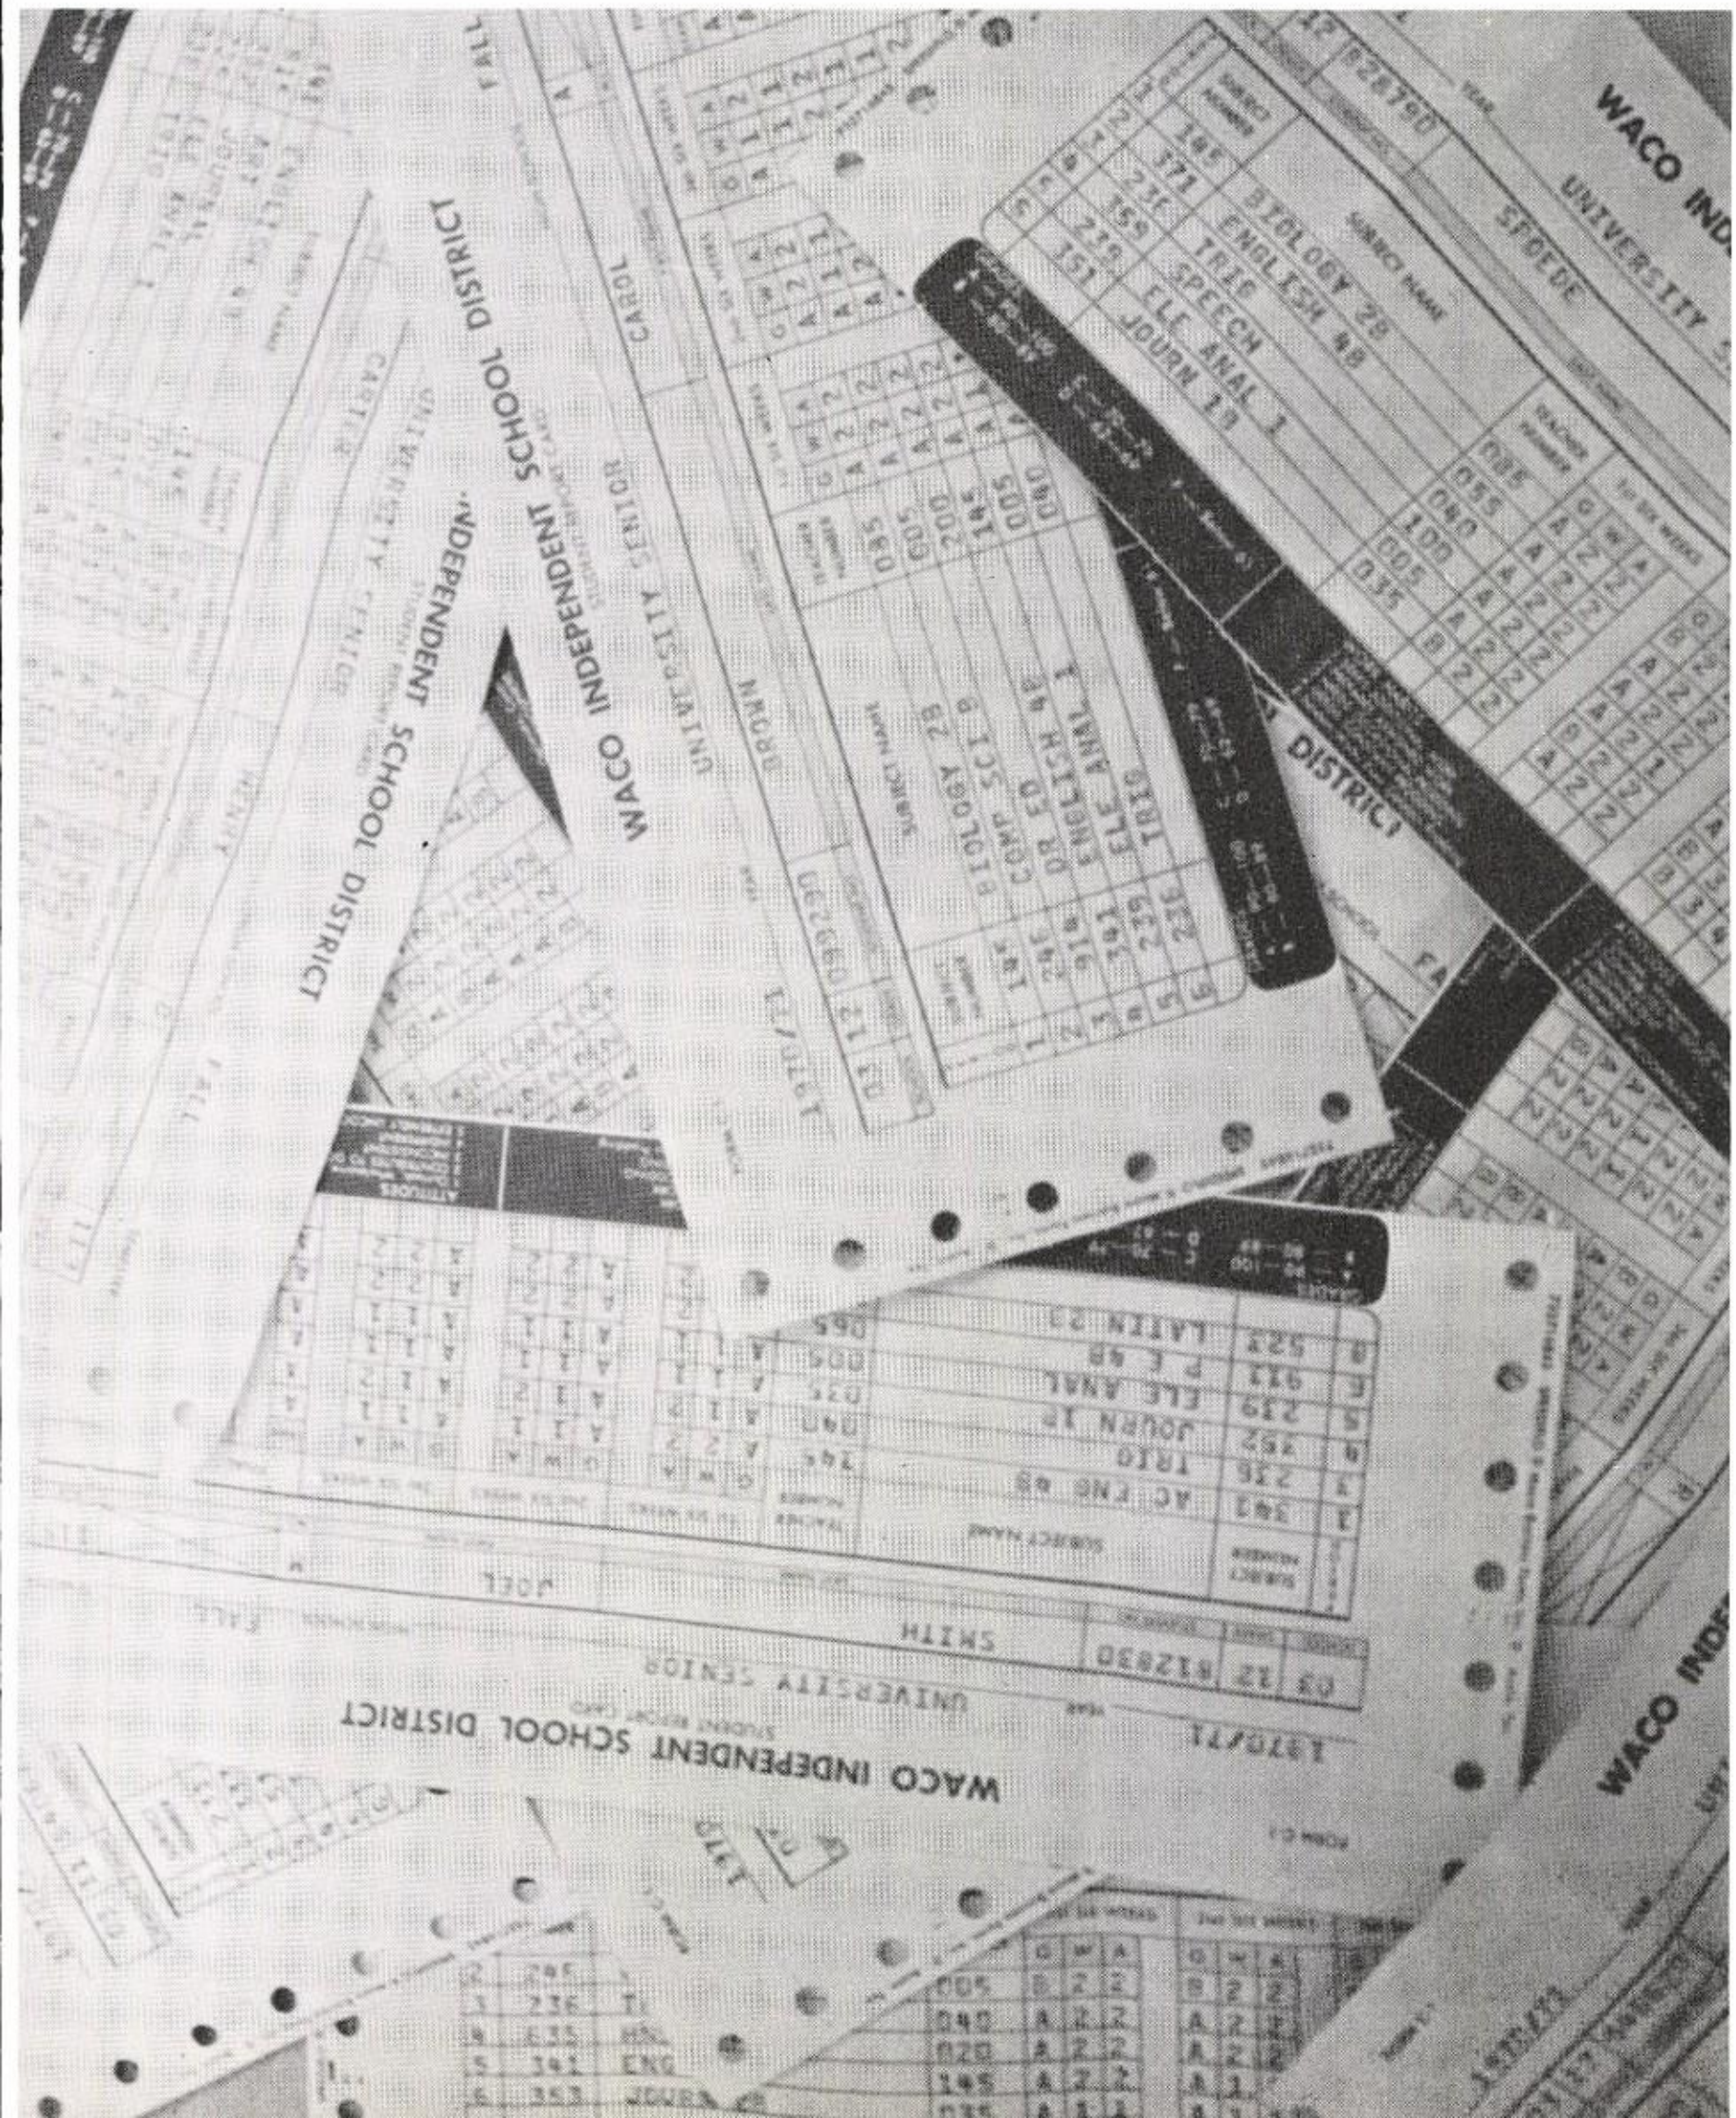

There is a group on the UHS campus that enthusiastically stands up for what they believe. This group is commonly called the Youth for Christ Club. In trying to reach their purpose of helping others know Christ and relate Him to their lives, the club brought Young Life to UHS. Young Life was started in Houston and has spread nation-wide. David Brack has been in charge of the Waco Chapter of Young life this past year. At the weekly meetings, there is a time for singing, skits, and devotion.

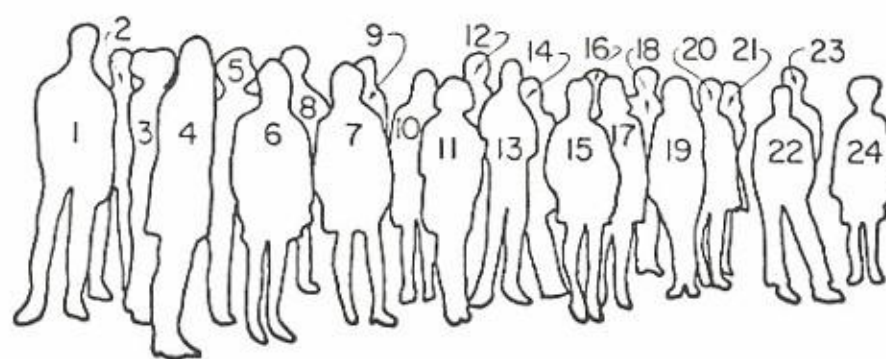

The National Honor Society is sponsored by Miss Sallie Moncrief. The members are Carol Brown, Dwayne Carter, Sheila Gann, Carla Graham, Blanton Haug, Ronnie Hope, Linda

junior classical league

As could be expected when Julius Ceasar came to town, the first few people in line were members of the Junior Classical League Club. Being interested in various landmarks they made their own mark in history by exhibiting talent in many activities. Some of their members competed in the state convention in San Antonio in April and they participated in Latin Week. The club also had several bake sales and sponsored a JCL banquet at the end of the year.

gamma sigma

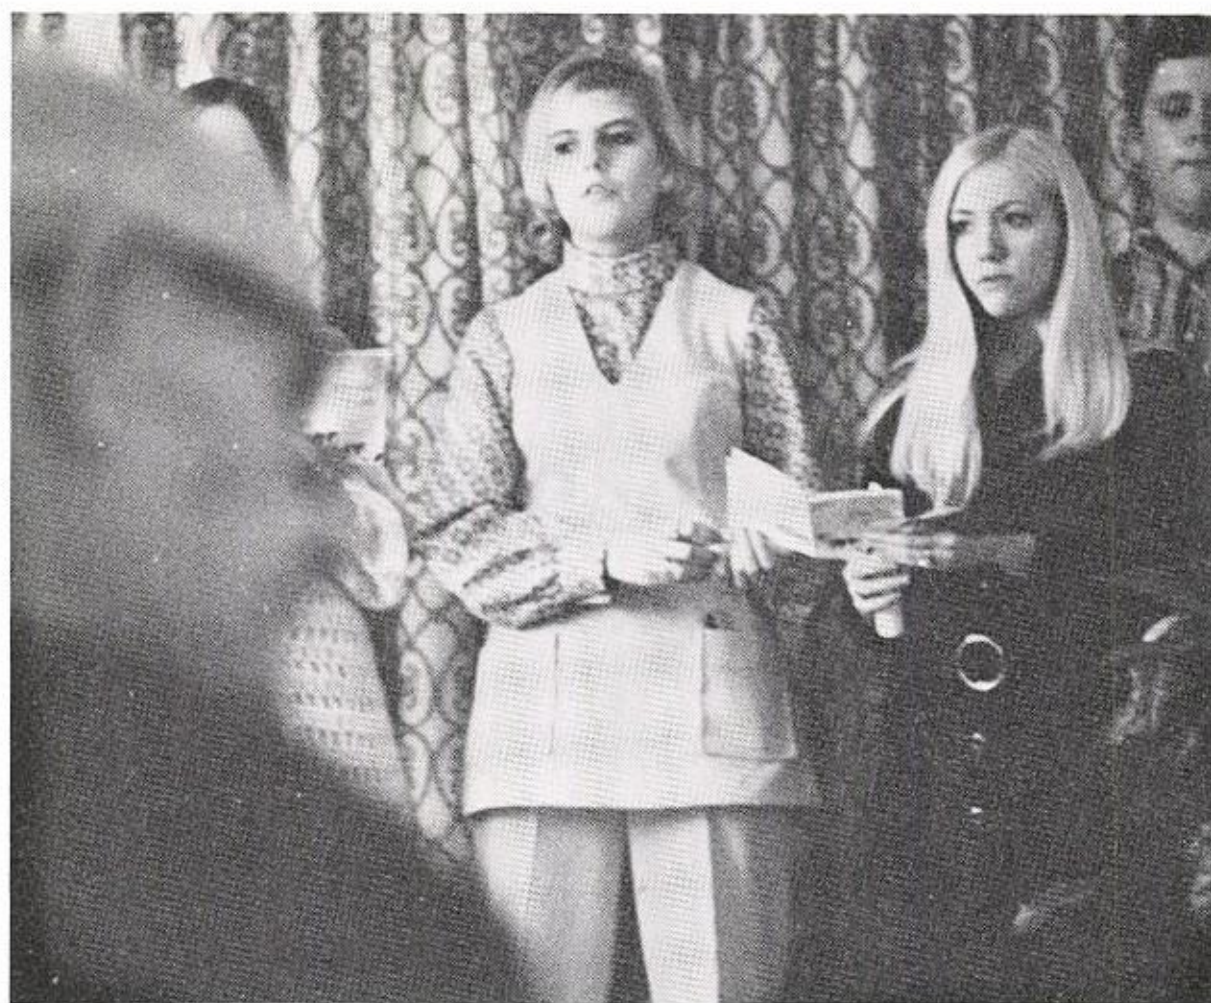

At UHS, service comes in all forms. No matter what size job, the girls of the Gamma Sigma, serve their community and their school in helpful ways. The Valentine Party at Evangelia and the Halloween party at Joyce Stamps Day Nursery were real great. In fact, the year was "filled up" with many activities. They also participated in the March of Dimes Sole March and sponsored an Easter egg hunt for underprivileged children.

Whether out on the farm, watching T.V., or just sitting around with friends, members of the Art Club are always coming up with new and creative ideas. Their ideas for Christmas decorations and football run-throughs were classics. Although neither Rembrandt, Distributive Education is a vocational program, which trains students in skills and theory necessary for successful employment in retail, wholesale and service marketing occupations. There are fifty students participating in this program, which is in its first year at University. Students in the program attend classes in the mornings and work in the afternoons. Johnny Lillard has won trophies at the Area V Distributive Education Youth Leadership Conference for business speaking contest performance and sales demonstration performance.

Distributive Education officers are Billie Robinson, president; David Cunningham, vice-president; Wanda Young, secretary-treasurer; Johnny Lillard, parliamentarian.

Where can some of the hardest-working people in school be found? In the ICT Club, of course! The members of the ICT Club are participants in the Industrial Cooperative Training Program in which students attend classes in the morning and train for a vocation in the afternoon. The club works to achieve its purpose of developing leadership by participating in Teacher Appreciation Day and by giving Thanksgiving baskets to the needy. They also provided popcorn for the kindergarten at First Baptist Church of Waco and took part in the March of Dimes Sole March.

"Vivan las Fiestas!" Or for those who don't speak Spanish, "Long live fun!" Singing and dancing portrays the fun-loving spirit of the Pan-American Student Forum. They have proven to be a group that is anxious to promote better understanding among Americans and the Spanish-speaking peoples of the world. The club has sponsored several activities, including a Christmas party for the children of the Latin-American neighborhood center. During March, several members of the club attended a convention in San Antonio.

seniors focus future

The future will reveal many new and different experiences for the seniors of 1971; but Joel Smith concentrates on pictures of this year's activities.

graduation—reality

As the years progress the longing to graduate becomes a reality. The feeling of graduation begins to take hold. On Recognition Day the seniors begin to realize they are the ones graduating. Just by the simple things—getting to sit wherever you want and in the chairs, no less! As individuals are called to the front to receive awards their knees begin to knock. Then the big moment of closing the assembly—and singing the school song. As the music plays and the voices begin to sing many of the seniors find themselves losing something on the inside which they cannot seem to understand. Following recognition comes the fun of play day. Seniors everywhere, some are in the pool, playing putt-putt, playing tennis, sunbathing, football, perhaps a game of volleyball, or stuffing those undernourished mouths. Time passes and play day comes to an end. But all the excitement isn't over yet. The very next night the reality of the Senior Prom. The looks of those at play day, then at the prom create a completely different image. With all the work and time put into the prom, the enjoyment is at a climax with the music playing and the atmosphere of India. This is the close for seniors but it is the beginning of a new world full of responsibility and acceptances.

Jimmy Etheridge, Martha Cagle, and Debbie Buelow (opposite left) begin the long wait as several seniors come forward to receive various awards. Carla Graham (opposite right top) accepts her certificate and plaque for serving as lieutenant in Highlighters while other seniors watch. Wanda and Billy Robinson (opposite center) seem interested in the other swimmers while they take time out for a break. Jerry Merritt (opposite bottom) creates a new pose for, modern sculpture with the help of James Sowders, Malcolm Frasier, Wayne Kirkpatrick, and some unknown tackler. Jimmy Ortega and Sharon Rawls (left) add some touches of perfection toward decorations for the prom.

TEXAS POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY

A tax-paying, investor-owned electric utility.

Studies show a majority of girls who learn to cook on an electric range in home economics classes hope they will always have an electric range to cook on! Among the reasons they give for electricity's popularity are "It's cleaner, heat is more accurately controlled, it's more modern, and gives you all the newest cooking conveniences, like the self-cleaning oven." A new electric range is so efficiently designed it cooks the food, not the air around it - and keeps your kitchen cooler. With automatic controls, it'll even cook your oven meals while you're away from home. Enjoy the easy, modern way to cook. Join the others who say "It's an electric range for me - from now on!"

Frances Guerra believes in cooking the modern way.
